Nameoki strike ends

Roadwork in Nameoki Township was to resume today following the settlement at noon yesterday of a strike of nearly four months by township highway department workers.

The workers, members of Teamsters Local 525 of Alton, walked off their jobs March 7 after failing to reach agreement with Highway Commissioner Albert Bell on an initial contract. They voted to unionize earlier in the year and never had a contract.

Bell, his attorney and union representatives reached agreement on a one-year tentative contract Tuesday afternoon and strikers met on the Nameoki Township parking lot at 11 a.m. yesterday to discuss the contract.

Bell said he received word at the meeting broke up at noon yesterday that the contract had been ratified by the five strikers at the meeting. Six other employees, who did not attend, were notified yesterday by registered mail that they could return to their jobs today.

Some of the employees are believed to have accepted other jobs during the strike and may not return to their highway posts. The number which will return by the end of the week will determine how many others must be hired to return the department to its full work force of 11, Bell said.

Bell said work today would center mainly on preparing equipment to resume work, but said some highway patching could begin this afternoon. The township roads have become quitted with chuckholes during the period they have been unattended.

The amount of patching which will take place today and tomorrow will depend upon the availability of materials, Bell said, noting that the Teamsters' strike against the construction industry has caused a shortage of road materials in this area.

The new one-year contract calls for the average worker with one year of experience to receive $3.90 per hour in wages and 10 cents per hour in insurance, up $1 from the basic $3 per hour scale before the strike began.

The mechanic and working foreman receive an increase of 50 cents per hour, from $4.25 before the strike of $4.75 now, according to Bell.

His figures differed slightly with figures discussed at Monday night's Nameoki Township meeting in which former wages of from $2.50 to $3.40 were mentioned. Following the settlement, Bell commented, "I have always been anxious to get the strike over with. I think everything will work out fine, now that we have it settled. I would like to thank all the people of Nameoki for their patience during the strike."

During Monday night's township meeting, the township's auditors, Supervisor Louis Whitsett and numerous members of the audience called for Bell and Dave McFarland, who represents the workers for Local 525, to negotiate immediately for a speedy end to the strike.

Auditor Kenneth Gieson commented, "I just wonder if it's possible for the men to come back to work until a contract is signed with a guarantee that any increases will be made retroactive to the date they returned to work."

McFarland said that was up to the men and he would ask them if they wished to return to work. Several township residents demanded that Bell and McFarland meet at the township hall immediately after the Town Board meeting, but Bell asked that they wait to see what Tuesday's negotiations would

Funds for sidewalks

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Granite City's 1974-75 budget — already projecting a $900,000 deficit — was boosted another $50,000 Monday night by a series of aldermanic requests for construction of sidewalks in their wards. Four separate motions for appropriation of funds to construct sidewalks were approved.

The council approved the additional budget item although several aldermen protested that the city is going to have serious financial difficulty in getting through the current fiscal year which began May 1.

The projects were added as amendments to an original motion by Alderman Emerald Daves of the Seventh Ward that $10,000 be budgeted for construction of sidewalks on Wabash Avenue between Amos Avenue and Johnson Road.

A similar motion for sidewalk construction on Wabash Avenue was rejected by the council several weeks ago. A delegation of women who said they had petitions signed by more than 300 persons favoring the project, attended Monday night's council meeting to renew their demands.

Daves noted that children walking to school are forced to walk in the street or through puddles and mud during rain periods and that the lack of sidewalks in that area presents a hazardous and dangerous situation. After Daves moved for a $10,000 appropriation for the Wabash Avenue project, Alderman R. E. Robertson of the Fourth Ward amended the motion to include $10,000 for similar work in his ward. This was followed by an amendment motion by Alderman Everett Morien of the First Ward for another $10,000 budget item for sidewalks in his ward.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward concluded the amendments with a motion calling for $20,000 for sidewalk construction in his ward.

The motions brought the comment from Alderman Sam Whitmer that, "I don't see how we can think of any sidewalk work. Our financial condition is such that we're going to be mighty lucky if we can get through this year."

Alderman Gerald Parmley, chairman of the City Council's finance committee, said, "We're not able to finance all these projects. The money is just not there. We already have a $900,000 deficit in the budget and it isn't even completed yet. I don't know where the money is coming from."

Although Daves in his motion specified that the money for the Wabash Avenue project be appropriated from federal revenue sharing funds, City Treasurer Paul Rutledge, in

Wittevrongel retires

The retirement resignation of M. A. Wittevrongel, administrative assistant in the Vocational Technical and Adult Education Department of Granite City School District, was accepted by the Board of Education at a meeting Tuesday night.

The board also received and accepted the resignation of Wayne Williams, head football coach and teacher at South High School, and accepted the resignations of four other teachers.

Wittevrongel has been widely recognized for his work in the vocational and adult education fields and has introduced a number of progressive programs in the school curriculum. He joined the Granite City school district in June 1956 after serving six years as director and supervisor for the state of Illinois Department of Vocational Education.

Various programs in both the day school and adult evening classes were inaugurated under Wittevrongel's supervision as the need for community classes, especially in the field of drop-outs who were encouraged to attend evening classes to receive a high school diploma or equivalent certificate.

Sheet metal work was included in the curriculum and a co-operative education program offering students cosmetology training

Annexation 'war' pledged

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
Armed with an opinion from the Madison County state attorney's office, Nameoki Township auditors Monday night "declared war" on recent and planned Granite City annexations of Nameoki Township property.

The opinion indicates that a Granite City proposal to annex property for Northland Estates and 5 subdivisions may not be legally approved, the Board of Auditors was told during a regular meeting.

The opinion, prepared by Michael J. Meehan, a law student intern in the state's attorney's office, says that while state law allows special provisions for strip annexations to bring schools into cities, the boundaries of the schools can not be used as the city's boundaries in making additional annexations.

Louis Whitsett, township supervisor, told the board, "It seems like they (Granite City) are trying to grab a big circle Wilshire and Parkview Estates. It's pretty obvious. I think we should file suit to stop this once and for all."

"If they are successful, the rest of the township will have to come up with more money to maintain our services. The areas Granite City is annexing are the areas with concrete streets and which require little upkeep," the supervisor said.

"That's why we are going to have to fight it. We can't let it happen," Whitsett concluded. In addition to plans to annex the new Northland Estates property, Granite City last week annexed 22.6 acres of Nameoki Township east of Worthen Park for a subdivision.

there, and recently annexed two vacant lots in the Steelecrest Subdivision.

Also being protested by the township are the former annexations of the Archer Daniels Midland Co. soybean processing plant on Cargill Road, Maryville and Grigsby schools and other areas, Granite City High School North, which the city also annexed, is in Chouteau Township.

Whitsett later stated, "Granite City is taking advantage of our situation here — the highway strike and everything."

Township Attorney Nick D. Vassileff asserted that in at least one case, the city annexed "only the school but the roadway between the city and the school. If that is allowed to happen along highways, that is strip annexation, which is illegal," the attorney said.

He agreed with Meehan's legal opinion which stated, "Regarding the existing annexations of the non-contiguous school tracts, however, Granite City would probably prevail in an action challenging the annexing ordinances." (Continued on Page 8)

July 4 festival program

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
Brilliant colors, resounding booms and flaring intricate patterns promise to enthrall young and old alike on Fourth of July night when Wilson Park once again becomes the setting for a gigantic fireworks display.

Next Thursday's 9 p.m. show will climax a six-day Fourth of July celebration sponsored by the Granite City Park District. An estimated crowd of 13,000 persons witnessed last year's pyrotechnic exhibition.

The 15th annual Fourth of July festival opens Saturday at Wilson Park with local concession stands, operated by youth, civic and service groups, and midway rides starting at 1 p.m. and continuing until 11 p.m.

The same 1 p.m. to 11 p.m. hours will be repeated Sunday, with a children's matinee planned that day between 1 and 5 p.m. when all rides will be reduced to 25 cents.

Clowns will greet the youngsters and distribute balloons at Sunday's matinee and again on Wednesday between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Rides will be lowered in price to 25 cents each at the midweek matinee session also.

Carnival hours for the remaining days are from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday and Tuesday and from 1 p.m. until 11 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Concession stands offering patrons an assortment of food and beverages will operate the same hours as the midway. Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today.

Local groups sponsoring both this year, include: South High's Boosters of the Fighting Warriors, shrimp and fish; Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City; Mexican food; Hook's Softball Team, corn-cob and barbecue steaks; Granite City Amateur Hockey Association; Pepsi-Cola.

An 8.94-tract of land on which the city of Venice will build a Community Center and facilities for senior citizens has been donated to the city by Johns-Manville Co., it was disclosed at a meeting of the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

The council approved acceptance of the deed and payment of a $10 token price to complete the transaction.

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt said cost of the building has been estimated at $250,000. The work will be financed from Venice's federal revenue sharing funds and with a grant from the Housing and Urban Development Agency to be acquired with the aid of the Madison County Housing Authority, the mayor said.

Value of the land contributed by the Johns-Manville Co. is estimated at $62,000. The site is located on Bissell Street between Klein Street and Mercedia Avenue.

"This is a historic occasion for our city," Mayor Ebersoldt said. "Everyone in Venice owes a debt of gratitude to the Johns-Manville Corp. The construction of a community center was one of the aims of the late Mayor Dr. John E. Lee."

"We also owe personal thanks to Frank Reidelberger Jr., Venice Township assessor, who has been working on this land project for over a year. Also working hard to make this center a reality has been Edward Foley, the director of the Madison County Housing Authority," the mayor added.

Infant with rare disease in need of blood donors

Donors are being sought to help replenish the blood of a 6-week-old infant who has required four transfusions to date, including one given Monday at Children's Hospital, St. Louis.

James John Salles, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. James Salles, 2623 E. 23rd St., was born May 14 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He has been transferred three hours after birth to Children's Hospital when the infant was found to be the victim of hereditary spherocytosis, a blood disorder in which the red blood cells are fragile and misshapen and are easily ruptured and destroyed.

The inherited disease is associated with severe anemia, jaundice and an enlarged spleen.

James John Salles was home with his parents for a brief time, but was readmitted to Children's Hospital on Monday.

Any type of blood may be donated to aid the infant, his mother said. She noted that five donors are necessary to produce one-half pint of red blood cells, which is the fluid received by the infant in a transfusion.

Mrs. Salles said the attending physicians reported her son will require a blood transfusion every three weeks until he reaches a minimum age of 6 months.

Volunteer donors are invited to call Barnes Hospital Blood Bank at 1-314-454-2094, to make an appointment to give blood. Those calling are asked to specify their donation is being made on behalf of James John Salles, the parents said.

Foreign meat hurts producers

The American Farm Bureau Federation board of directors is asking for an investigation to determine if foreign meat is being dumped in the U.S. at a time when domestic livestock producers are suffering severe financial losses.

The AFBF board stated: "It is the feeling among livestock producers that the U.S. is being used as a dumping ground for foreign meat. 'Until trade restrictions are removed by foreign governments, we recommend that AFBF request the Commissioner of Customs and the Treasury Department to investigate the dumping of foreign meat in the U.S. and, if found to be true, that immediate action be taken to correct this serious problem.'"

"We further recommend that the AFBF request the President to re-evaluate the economic conditions of the domestic meat producers. Facts indicate that many livestock producers and feeders are sustaining severe financial losses and many will be forced out of business which will affect the future supplies of meat for the American consumers.

"These facts should be considered by the President, and he should be encouraged to invoke the provisions of the law to relieve the financial burdens of livestock producers."

"We further recommend that an all-out Farm Bureau information and action program be instituted, pointing out that meat is one of today's best food buys. At a time when most other consumer items are higher, meat is lower priced than at any time since 1972."

"We further suggest that all state Farm Bureaus work closely with state Extension, National Live Stock and Meat Board, livestock commodity organizations, processors, stores, and others seeking their cooperation in encouraging the consumers to buy more meat."

Three arrested on vice charges

Two women were arrested in a Madison tavern on prostitution charges Monday night and the operator of the tavern was charged with keeping a place of prostitution. Madison police said they charged Jenny Huey, 41, of 1112 State St., with keeping a place of prostitution. Catherine Louise Griffin, 19, of 1110 State St., and Joann Dawn Brown, 18, of St. Louis, were charged with prostitution.

They were arrested at Big Jenny's Tavern, 1112 State St., which was closed on orders of Mayor Mike Sasyk, city liquor control commissioner, pending outcome of hearings.

Madison Police Investigator Paul Bargiel said he had been investigating activities at the tavern for the past month. He said Madison police were aided by Madison County sheriff's deputies in the investigation and arrests.

The two young women charged with prostitution were released on bonds of $500 each and both requested jury trials. The tavern proprietor was released on $100 and a notice to appear.

either by mail or in person.

On Tuesday, July 9, at 8:30 p.m. Leo Kottke, with Steve Goodman and Megan McDonough, will perform at the festival. A rarity among performers in the pop-rock scene, Kottke's concerts provide audiences with all types of music including classical selections.

He appeared at MRF last season with Harry Chapin. Megan McDonough is a songwriter, singer and guitarist whose songs include "Keep in Touch," "Pocketful," and "Song Without a Story." Steve Goodman is competent in singing, writing and playing an instrument; his album "Somebody Else's Troubles" captures his talents as a guitarist. His composition "City of New Orleans" was sent to the top of the charts by Arlo Guthrie.

The J. Geils Band makes its first appearance at MRF on Wednesday evening, July 10 at 8:30. Begun in Boston, the group is composed of J. Geils, guitarist; Peter Wold, lead singer; Magic Dick, harp; Seth Justman, piano and organ; Stephen Bladd, drums; and Danny Klein, bass. Their style is blues and rock and roll.

Friday night's family concert on July 12 features Rick Nelson and the Stone Canyon Band. Nelson's newest album "Windfall" contains country, rock and good ballads with a jazz influence. Each member of the Stone Canyon Band contributes something unique to the album; they are: Tom Brumley, J. DeWitt White, Dennis Larden and Ty Grimes.

Tickets to all events are available at bi-state area box offices or at the SIU box office in Edwardsville.

Two prisoners being taken from Springfield, Ill., to Menard Penitentiary at Chester overpowered a Sangamon County sheriff's deputy who was driving them through Madison County near Route 4 and U. S. 40 east of Collinsville at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Howard Elston, 32, who was to serve a life term for kidnapping and robbery, and Gary Daily, 23, who was sentenced to 12 to 36 years in prison for armed robbery, both from Springfield, reportedly freed themselves from leg shackles in the car and started a fire in the rear seat.

When Sgt. Joseph Powell of the Sangamon County Sheriff's Department opened the rear door to extinguish the fire, he was overpowered by the two who took his .38 caliber service revolver. They used Powell's key to unlock their handcuffs.

They drove around the southeast corner of the county until about 12:15 p.m. when they stopped at the rural home of Mr. and Mrs. Ames Stewart, Rural Route One, Box 123a, Collinsville. They knocked on the door and Dailey asked Mrs. Margaret Stewart if he could use the telephone. When he was allowed inside, Elston brought

A contract for demolition of the old Central Junior High School building to permit construction of a new township office and recreational center was awarded by the Granite City Town Board in a special meeting Monday night.

The contract went to the Hayden Lumber & Wrecking Co. of East St. Louis which submitted the lowest of six base bids. The firm's alternate bid for fill work that may or may not be necessary was the second highest among the six bids, but the total of its base bid and alternate bid still was the lowest among all bidders.

The East St. Louis firm of tered to raze the building for $50,731. Its alternate bid for the fill work was $1,160 for a total bid of $58,891 if the fill work and grading appears necessary after the demolition jobs is completed.

The second lowest base bid was submitted by Wilbur Smith Waggoner Equipment Rental & Excavating Co., at $58,580, with a bid for the alternate work at $11,568, for a total of $70,148.

Other bids were: G. H. Stearns Co., base bid of $65,790, alternate bid of $1,023; C. D. Peters Construction Co., base bid $65,845, alternate bid $5,500; L. Wolf Co., base bid $65,665, alternate $5,500; Ed Moore Construction Co., base

The town board, which is made up of City Council members, accepted the low bid on the recommendation of Henry Gabriel, architect for the new township building project. Construction of the building has been estimated at $500,000.

A motion to accept the low bid by Alexander Ronald Coleman also provided that Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer be authorized to complete a contract with the successful bidder.

In answer to inquiries by board members, Gabriel assured the board that the contractor will be required to post a performance bond in the contract agreement.

C. E. Townsend, Granite City, retired publisher of the Press-Record, was honored by Junior Achievement of the St. Louis area at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at the St. Louis Country Club. Townsend was praised for his long service from 1955 to 1974 on the JA board of directors. A plaque of appreciation was presented to him at the luncheon meeting by Harold H. Smith, JA president.

The plaque cited "dedicated leadership during a period of rapid economic growth."

The regional JA program serves 275 miniature companies in the St. Louis area, including high school students who made and sold products exceeding $200,000 in value during the 1973-74 year.

The program has spread throughout the nation as a means of teaching young people understanding of and regard for the private enterprise system.

The Mississippi Valley Junior Achievement chapter has the highest quality and quantity of material that it has won the No. 1 ranking among all JA chapters in the country.

That rating again has been attained for the current year, though announced. It is based on the number of students who completed the scope and effectiveness of JA services.

Mr., Mrs. H. C. Steiner mark 55th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Steiner, 2431 Grand Ave., received guests at their home this week during an afternoon open house reception given in honor of their 55th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the affair were the honorees' daughter, Mrs. Erlene Dunn, of Ocala, Fla., and their granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Muskin, of Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Steiner were married in Dover, Tenn., on June 22, 1919. They moved to Granite City shortly thereafter. Both are members of Trinity United Methodist Church. Mr. Steiner also is a member of Tri-City American Legion Post 113 and his wife is a past president of the American Legion 113 Auxiliary.

The honored couple also has a grandson, Robin Richardson, of Ocala, Fla., and a great-granddaughter, Dawn Muskin, of Granite City.

1974

St. Peter Church scene of Graf-Deer wedding

Diane Elizabeth Bostrom-Deer, of Boulder, Colo., and Robert William Graf of Colorado Springs, Colo., formerly of Granite City, recited wedding vows they had composed together before the Rev. Robert Kettelhub in a double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. on June 15 at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her parents, Mrs. Robert Elsworth Clendenen and Edwin Oscar Bostrom, both of Boulder, Colo. The groom is a son of Mrs. Lillie Graf of Edwardsville and the late William Graf.

Baskets of white gladiolus and red carnations adorned the altar, with burning tapers in floor candelabra on either side. The pews were alternately marked with white candles and red bows and white satin bows.

Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary" and "Trumpet Tune in D" were played by the church organist.

The Victorian style bridal gown was designed by the bride's mother and previously was worn by a younger sister. The dress was created with a high lace collar, bordered with seed pearls, and lace panels over a sheer, shadow stripe bodice accented with satin covered buttons. The full sleeves terminated in deep lace cuffs, closed with matching buttons.

The A-line skirt, cascading gently from an Empire waist, was made of hammered satin from the Netherlands. Floral appliques trimmed the hem and detachable train.

Her waist length veil was edged in lace and secured to a floral bandeau headpiece. She carried a Bible from the Holy Land, belonging to her elder sister, which was topped with a single white orchid, white roses, stephanotis and trailing satin streamers.

Attending the bride were Holly Anne Lightsey, the bride's sister, maid of honor; and Miss Nancy Lynn Graf, the groom's daughter, Mary Lois Clymer, a sister of the bride and Joann Hill Starks, bridesmaids.

They were groomed in identical dresses of red dotted swiss made in Empire style, with sweetheart necklines and short, double layer cap sleeves.

Each attendant wore a wide brim white garden hat with red ribbon bands and streamers, trimmed with red roses, and held a colonial bouquet of red and white carnations.

Robin Jane Allison, a niece of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing a long white frock, embellished with tiny red flowers. She wore a headband of matching fabric and red satin rosebuds and she carried a white basket of red and white carnations.

Donald B. Hequembourg served as best man. Groomsmen were Jack DeAtley, Marvin K. Kaiser and Thomas E. Koetting.

Michael D. and Richard A. Willmore, nephews of the groom, were ushers and acolytes, and Thomas Arthur Bueente, the groom's nephew, was the ringbearer.

A rehearsal dinner was served at the Roundtable Restaurant in Collinsville.

The buffet reception was arranged by the groom's sisters, Mrs. Raymond Bueente and Mrs. Richard Willmore, both of Granite City, at the VFW Hall. Assisting at the event were Joann Hill Starks and Jeannette Thurber, both of Colorado Springs, and Mary Lois Clymer, a sister of the bride, from Boulder.

Among the guests was the maternal grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Marjorie DeHiser, of Deer Lodge, Hackensack, Minn.

A 1968 graduate of Boulder High School, the bride was graduated in 1972 from the University of Colorado, where she received a B.Sc. degree in business and B.A. degree in German. She spent her junior year at the University of Regensburg in Southern Germany and presently is employed as an auditor for Mountain Banks, Ltd., Colorado Springs.

Mr. Graf is a graduate of Granite City High School and Southern Illinois University, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in business. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Colorado Society of CPA. The groom is vice-president of finance and secretary-treasurer of Mountain Banks, Ltd. in Colorado Springs.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clendenen selected an evening gown of pink chiffon over satin, made with long sleeves, a V-neckline and enhanced with a band of pearls and gold colored beads at the Empire waist.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Graf, was attired in a formal princess style dress of yellow crepe with open work detailing at the round neckline and short sleeves. Both wore white orchid corsages.

The newly married couple will reside in Colorado Springs.

Pi Eta hosts family campout

Pi Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority hosted a family campout near Goose Creek, Mo., during the weekend on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Charbonnier of Granite City. The group camped in tents and enjoyed swimming, fishing and outdoor cooking.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Norm Bennett and children, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gallardi, Mr. and Mrs. David Gibson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Yehling and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Charbonnier and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nolen and Miss Tammy Jones.

Mrs. Margeson is birthday honoree

Mrs. Robert (Florence) Margeson, 3156 Aubrey Ave., entertained several friends Tuesday evening at Tempel's Smorgasbord in observance of her 65th birthday.

The occasion also served to celebrate the Margeson's 45th wedding anniversary.

A smorgasbord dinner was served and the evening was spent playing cards. Gifts were presented to the hostess by her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Zimmer, and other guests.

Among those present were Mesdames Karmyn Edmonds, Helen Davis, Marie Sties, Alma Brown, Vesta Campbell, Betty Lampe, Mable Ryan, Louise Smith, Loreta Kaska and Carmel Maykolpel.

MOTORCYCLE STOLEN

A motorcycle was stolen from the garage of Harold Sebastian, 3006 Namecki Road. It was reported last week.

Lynn Osborn is married

The Rev. Larry Necessary officiated at a double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of June 15 at the First Christian Church, 2904 Maryville Road, uniting in marriage Miss Lynn Osborn and Thomas E. Donaldson.

Wedding selections, played by Carolyn Necessary preceding the service, included "We've Only Just Begun" and "Theme from Romeo and Juliet."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Helen Osborn, 2532 Revere's Route. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donaldson of Mitchell.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Harry Miller, the former Miss Osborn wore a full length bridal gown of peau de soie.

She attends Granite City High School North and is employed at Tri-City Speedway. The groom is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School and works at A. O. Smith Corp.

Doe Ann Crocker married in afternoon ceremony

The wedding of Miss Doe Ann Crocker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Crocker, 38 Beacon Ave., Ferguson, Mo., and Ron L. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill H. Thompson, 2118 Pontoon Road, took place on June 1 at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Normandy, Mo.

Burning tapers in standing altar candelabra and floral sprays created the setting for the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Officiating were the Rev. Raymond Tally and the Rev. Charles Johnson.

Musical selections included "The Wedding Song" and "Ode to Joy."

A chiffon gown fashioned with a re-embroidered lace bodice, a sheer yoke and a long flowing skirt was worn by the bride.

The long, full bishop sleeves terminated at the wrists in a gathered ruffle and she wore a cathedral length veil of bridal illusion.

Maid of honor Miss Janese Stock and the bridesmaid, Miss Pat Szarmkowski, were groomed alike in a pink floral print dresses.

Their frocks were made with cap sleeves and sculptured necklines. Each held a bouquet of pink and white roses and carnations.

Glenn M. Kmezc attended the groom as best man, and Larry Nolan was the groomsmen. Seating the guests were Dan Jones and Gary Andrews.

Friends of the bridal couple attended a reception at Mr. Yac's Matador Room in Florissant, Mo.

A rehearsal dinner was served at LaRocca's Restaurant, Florissant, for members of the wedding party and their families.

The couple is now residing in St. Louis following a wedding trip to Hilton Head Island, S.C. The former Miss Crocker will graduate in May from the University of Missouri at St. Louis.

Her husband received a B.S. degree in physics and electrical engineering at Washington University and a M.S. degree in physics from the University of Missouri at Rolla. He is now employed as a physicist by Baganoff Associates, St. Louis.

BURGLARY ON GRAND About $100 cash and two tickets to Six Flags Amusement Park were stolen from the home of Thern Hogue, 1754 Grand Ave., it was reported this week. Entry was gained by breaking a basement door lock.

Trinity Church to honor couples

The program is being presented in conjunction with all areas United Methodist churches, which are providing their own observances, the pastor reported.

Highlighting the planned series will be a week of special services, featuring guest speakers who have been associated with the church in past years, the Rev. Dugger advised.

Worship services on Sunday, Aug. 11, will begin at Webster Grade School, where the Trinity congregation originally gathered. Church members will then adjourn to the present building for the celebration, the minister explained.

Christmas in June party

A "Christmas in June" dinner of the Daughters of Union Veterans, Tent 90, was held last week at Tempel's Smorgasbord, followed by a meeting and party in the home of Mrs. Sylvia Turner.

To create an appropriate atmosphere, the hostess decorated a Christmas tree with all the trimmings, displayed holiday wrapped gifts and played seasonal music.

The unusual party was staged in June, as inclement weather prevented members from attending a similar event last December.

Prizes were presented to Marie Boyd and Lucy O'Neil. Mrs. Jean Barnes, president, presided at the business session and announced August's Munsterman will be a department guard for the state convention in 1975.

Mrs. Munsterman represented Tent 90 at a state convention in Chicago earlier this month.

Golda Mohrman, a past district president, described attending a Civil War sham battle in Burton, Ohio, and displayed pictures of the event.

Members were reminded to display the American flag on July 4, and a membership drive was planned with Mrs. Pearl Ward and Mrs. Marie Boyd appointed to head the drive committee.

Also reviewed was the DUV national convention to be held in August at San Francisco, Calif.

Tent 90 will discontinue meetings until Sept. 3, at the home of Mrs. Barnes in Edwardsville.

Region, was the installing officer. Among the future events planned by the club is a "Roaring 20's" party on July 20 at the East St. Louis Council Knights of Columbus Club.

Proceeds from the dance will be used toward the purchase of a bus for the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, officers reported.

Soroptimist Club installs

The Soroptimist Club of Metro-East installed new officers at a dinner meeting on Monday evening at Roustio's Sirloin Strip in Collinsville.

New officers include Mrs. Roscoe Smith, president; Mrs. George Crain, president-elect; Mrs. Edwin Price, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Quigley, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Foster, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Mark Moreton, treasurer.

Mrs. Robert Matthews, District I director of the Soroptimist Southwestern

16 funny cars enter summer championships

Sixteen supercharged funny cars—lightweight drag cars with fiberglass bodies—will compete for the Dr. Pepper funny car summer championships Saturday and Sunday at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

Large cash purses also are expected to draw top cars from throughout the Midwest in the super stock, street and stock money classes. Selectra eliminator (ET) and trophy eliminations also will be held each day.

Entered in the funny car field are several local entries, including the popular Guthrie & Burton Mustang with Jim Guthrie of St. Louis driving, and the Screamin' Eagle Camaro of Dion Stewart, Greenfield, Ill., runner-up at the last funny car event held here June 9.

Also entered is the "Seepert Automotive" Pinto of Dick Titsworth, Toledo, Ohio; "Jega's" Coughlin's Vega; Papesh and Cartelle's "Roughrider" Pinto of Chicago; Fred Hagen in the Hagen & O'Hare Challenger; John Mikalko's "Ohio Thunder" Vega, and Vern Mead's Vega from Iowa.

Also, Vick Tiffin's Mustang; the Trisch and Reschlin "Uni-Charger"; Larry McConney, Bob Strang, the Cambridge & Schultz Vega and others.

The winners in the super stock and street classes will be racing for $1,000 winners' checks in each class with the two class runners-up receiving $300 each. Stock cars will run for a $300 first prize and $150 to the runner up.

The popular "dial-your-own handicap" selectra money class, which appeals to many amateurs, will offer $100 winners' purses and $50 runners-up prices in separate eliminations Saturday and Sunday.

Ticket prices are $5 for adults Saturday and $6 Sunday. Coupons for a $1 reduction per ticket are being distributed by the sponsor. Children under 12 are admitted free with an adult.

There will be no charge for race cars entering the trophy or selectra classes either day. Trophy and selectra cars may enter either or both days' activities.

Gates Saturday will open at 2 p.m. with eliminations at 8:30 p.m. Sunday, the gates will open at 9 a.m. for time-trials with championship eliminations starting at 2 p.m.

Mercer 9 at Piasa

Illinois Inter-City Baseball League action will resume Sunday with the Mercer nine on the road for a 2 p.m. contest at Piasa.

The local squad presently holds down second place in Red Division standings with a 4-3 record after losing 7-3 at home this week to Panama of the Blue Division.

In other league action Sunday, Troy, the Red Division leader at 5-1, takes on Blue Division leader, East Alton (5-2); Highland-Pierson (3-4) meets Panama (3-5), and Livingston (0-7) has a bye.

Hot competition and hot pants night Friday at Tri-City race

Wib Spalding of Pontoon Beach and Len Gettemier of St. Charles, Mo., will match their wits against each other, and other drivers tomorrow evening on the half-mile dirt oval at Tri-City Speedway in the late model stock car division.

Spalding, with three feature race wins under his belt thus far this season, holds only a 115-point (1,025) lead in the current point standings over his second with 910 points.

Luck and superior equipment will determine who emerges tomorrow on top of the standings.

A poor showing, or mechanical trouble, in point earning events on the part of Spalding could boost Gettemier over the top, providing he performs as well as he did on June 7 when he captured 51-lap feature race.

Not to be discounted as potential point leaders are former feature race winners Lou Thierrey, Bill Scherer, and Russ Wallace.

In the sportsman division, Granite Cityans Gary Barker and Jack Yates will be seeking to move up in that class's point standings. John Wolfermerier of St. Louis, who has yet to win a feature race at the local raceway, is the current point leader because of his consistent top finishes in point earning events.

To add fire to the racing program, promoter Ed Bloom has announced that lady spectators wearing "hot pants" will be admitted free of charge.

Time trials will start at 7:30 p.m. and the first heat race will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Bruch hopes to continue winning ways at MaClair tennis tourney

John Bruch—a standout senior tennis player at Granite City High School South this spring—has entered this weekend's MaClair Tennis Association tournament. Bruch is fresh from capturing the 18-and-under singles championship this week at Belleville West High School.

Seeded third in the Belleville tourney, Bruch defeated Rodger Stumpe of Alton, 11-10, 7-6, 7-6, for the title. He captured his first two matches, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1 and 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, to advance against Stumpe.

The doubles team of GCHS South's Mike Papes and O'Fallon's Scott Perkins emerged the overall victor with 6-2 wins over Mike Cullen of St. Louis and Steve Pearce of Mascoutah.

Kristoff to manage U.S. mat squad

Larry Kristoff, wrestling coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been named assistant coach and manager of the United States team which will compete for the world cup of wrestling in the Canary Islands in July.

The selection of coaches was announced by the Wrestling Committee of the National Amateur Athletic Union. Head coach will be Bill Weick of Chicago.

Teams from Russia, Bulgaria and Iran, in addition to the United States, will be competing for the world championship. The members of the U. S. team and the weight classes in which they will be entered are:

South mat tourney Saturday

A star-studded field of high school matmen will gather at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Granite City High School South's Gymnasium Annex in an attempt to wrestle their way to the Hersey High School state finals on July 6 and the Southwestern Illinois-Oklahoma dual meet on July 23.

Heading the contingent of high school standouts will be Cahokia free-style tournament victors Jim Caschetta at 106 pounds; Steve Garland at 115; John Niebur at 132, and Brian Wilson at 177, all of Granite City.

Competing also will be the Cahokia runnersup, Keith Whelan at 106 and Phil Lapinski at 123 pounds.

Only class champions and runnersup at the South tourney will qualify for the Hersey state meet and the dual meet to be hosted by Cahokia.

World Cup semi-finals Sunday

Two semi-final World Cup Soccer events are scheduled for Kiel Auditorium, Sunday, June 30, it was announced by Bob Queller, local representative for the games.

Poland and Yugoslavia will meet in the 10 a.m. match and West Germany is slated to go against Sweden at 1:30 p.m. Both are separate events, and the auditorium will be closed after the morning match to prepare for the 1:30 p.m. event.

Admission for each event is $10 for a couples' ticket, $7.50 for adults, and $3 for children under 16 years of age.

Advance tickets may be purchased from the St. Louis Stars, Catholic Youth Council, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, St. Louis University, University of Missouri at St. Louis, Florissant Valley Junior College, and Meramec Junior College.

Southern grid Coach Williams resigns; will coach at the university level

By KEN THOMPSON

Press-Record Sports Writer

Wayne Williams, Granite City High School South football coach, submitted a letter of resignation as a high school coach and teacher Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Granite City School Board.

Citing an offer to coach football at the college level for his reason, he stated, "I can assure you this has been one of the most difficult decisions I have ever made."

In August of 1969 he wore steel-rimmed glasses and spoke terse, and demanding instructions as he prepared the Warrior squad for battle as its 14th coach.

On his arrival, the school had gathered a two-year overall record of 6-15-2 and 22-2 Southwestern Conference standing mark.

The 1969 team ended the superb season with a 10-1 record with East St. Louis in the conference—both had 4-2 records—shattering a three-year school habit of placing last. The Warriors were 5-3 overall that year.

Williams was no stranger to Texas, became the fourth rider in as many weeks Tuesday evening to capture the American Motorcycle Association sanctioned feature race at Tri-City Speedway here.

The expert cycle rider last week finished second in the 10th event behind national rider Mike Kidd after outdaring his brother, defending track champion Robert E. Lee. Tuesday's victory was the first here for the young Texan.

"I feel real good," he commented afterwards. "It was a tough race with a lot of pressure on me from Cleek."

Lee was speaking of Oklahoma's Randy Cleek who finished second. David Rush of Texas was third.

Lee edged Belleville's Doug Ahn at the wire to win the third heat race and then dashed to victory in the third semi-final race in which Rush and California's Pat McCaul placed second and third.

The evening's program was marred by pre-race accidents involving the cycles of Gary Reust, 23, of McCoud, Okla., and William Carter, 23, of Houston, Tex., in the third corner of the quarter-mile oval.

In an unrelated accident later in the evening, Rodney Noel, 22, of Moberly, Mo., was admitted to the local hospital after losing consciousness and with a sprained right ankle.

Other race event victors were: Ken Hapke, first heat; Mike Ladd, second heat; Phil McDonald, fourth heat; Pat McCaul, fifth heat; Randy Cleek, sixth heat; McDonald, first semi-feature, and Cleek, second semi-feature.

The short-track motorcycle racing will resume next Tuesday at Tri-City Speedway with time trials beginning at 7 p.m.

Granite City American Legion Post 113 will travel to Fairview Heights today for a 6 p.m. District 22 contest. The team then faces five consecutive home stands, starting with a 6 p.m. game at Wilson Park against Venice-Madison Post 307 tomorrow.

The Granite City Legionnaires now are 4-9 overall (3-4 in league play) after dropping two contests this week, 3-0 Monday at Carlyle and 4-2 last night at home against New Baden.

All of New Baden's runs were unearned on 12 hits and three Granite City errors. The visitors scored one run in each of the third and fourth innings for a 2-2 ballyage. They then added two more in an extra inning.

Post 113 scored in the third when Dennis Solberger and Mike Gage drew walks, and a single by Dave Dombek drove in a runner.

WAYNE WILLIAMS

(kneeling) has traded his Granite City High School South football tenure for the grid of a major university, yet to be named.

Southwestern Conference competition, having been football coach at Wood River before coming to Granite City. He came into the conference from West Frankfort, Ill., in 1964 and soon earned the title of Southwestern Conference standing mark.

The 1969 team ended the superb season with a 10-1 record with East St. Louis in the conference—both had 4-2 records—shattering a three-year school habit of placing last. The Warriors were 5-3 overall that year.

Williams was no stranger to Texas, became the fourth rider in as many weeks Tuesday evening to capture the American Motorcycle Association sanctioned feature race at Tri-City Speedway here.

The expert cycle rider last week finished second in the 10th event behind national rider Mike Kidd after outdaring his brother, defending track champion Robert E. Lee. Tuesday's victory was the first here for the young Texan.

"I feel real good," he commented afterwards. "It was a tough race with a lot of pressure on me from Cleek."

Lee was speaking of Oklahoma's Randy Cleek who finished second. David Rush of Texas was third.

Lee edged Belleville's Doug Ahn at the wire to win the third heat race and then dashed to victory in the third semi-final race in which Rush and California's Pat McCaul placed second and third.

The evening's program was marred by pre-race accidents involving the cycles of Gary Reust, 23, of McCoud, Okla., and William Carter, 23, of Houston, Tex., in the third corner of the quarter-mile oval.

In an unrelated accident later in the evening, Rodney Noel, 22, of Moberly, Mo., was admitted to the local hospital after losing consciousness and with a sprained right ankle.

Other race event victors were: Ken Hapke, first heat; Mike Ladd, second heat; Phil McDonald, fourth heat; Pat McCaul, fifth heat; Randy Cleek, sixth heat; McDonald, first semi-feature, and Cleek, second semi-feature.

The short-track motorcycle racing will resume next Tuesday at Tri-City Speedway with time trials beginning at 7 p.m.

Granite City American Legion Post 113 will travel to Fairview Heights today for a 6 p.m. District 22 contest. The team then faces five consecutive home stands, starting with a 6 p.m. game at Wilson Park against Venice-Madison Post 307 tomorrow.

The Granite City Legionnaires now are 4-9 overall (3-4 in league play) after dropping two contests this week, 3-0 Monday at Carlyle and 4-2 last night at home against New Baden.

All of New Baden's runs were unearned on 12 hits and three Granite City errors. The visitors scored one run in each of the third and fourth innings for a 2-2 ballyage. They then added two more in an extra inning.

Post 113 scored in the third when Dennis Solberger and Mike Gage drew walks, and a single by Dave Dombek drove in a runner.

In two seasons under Williams' tenure the Warriors built a 12-4 conference record and contended for the conference championship each year.

The 1970 season saw him lead the Warriors to an 8-1 overall record, losing their only game to eventual conference champion Alton.

Going into the 1973 season Granite City High had an impressive three-year record of 18-4-1. In 1972 his team battled to a 5-1 conference tie with Belleville West before West broke the tie by beating the Warriors in the season's final contest.

This past season, South ended its season finale by playing to a 14-1 tie with undefeated West, good enough for a 5-4 overall record (4-2-1 in conference).

Williams' letter of resignation this week came as a shock to most who knew him because he had announced only last month at a spring sports banquet that he was looking forward to another successful football season at Granite City South. B. J. Davis, superintendent of Granite City public schools, told the Press-Record, "We hate to lose someone with his skill and talent. He is probably one of the best football coaches in the state."

"Wayne has the ability to be successful wherever he goes because he relates so well with the players and his associates. He has built a fine football program at South," Davis concluded.

SIUE String Development Plan Attracts Foreign Students

Prof. John D. Kendall, head of the string development program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is attracting students from other countries to the SIUE campus.

Four of seven graduate assistants in the program came from other countries last fall to work under Kendall, one of the first Americans to become interested in the Shinichi Suzuki "listen and play" technique of teaching the violin.

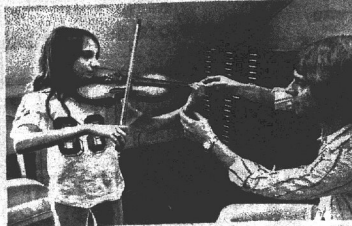

Pak-chung (Raymond) Cheng is from Hong Kong. Patricia Murphy from Ireland, Sven Sjogren from Sweden and Jennifer Whistler from England. Next fall, they will go back to their own countries and teach the Suzuki method.

"Students in the string development program not only receive instruction but have an opportunity to teach under supervision in our preparatory program," Kendall explained. "In addition to doing class work required of graduate students, each must teach 10 private students."

"The students are so congenial and so hard-working," Kendall said, "it is a pleasure to work with them. They are forming lifetime friendships here and enjoying themselves as well. We hope this will open lines with other students from other countries."

Kendall's ambition is to establish an international teacher-performance center at SIUE. "There are so many who want to learn about Suzuki," he says. "We have the basis for such a center but need to house participants. That is why I have been taking the workshop to the people all over the country."

As he has for many years, Kendall will go this summer to California, Oregon, Wisconsin and northern Illinois to teach the Suzuki method, based on the premise that any child with normal mental ability to learn to speak by repetition of sound can learn to play the violin by the same method.

A NATIVE OF SWEDEN, Sven Sjogren (right) came to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last fall to study with Prof. John Kendall, head of the string development program at the University. Sjogren, a graduate of the Conservatory in Gothenburg, Sweden, is shown as he uses the Shinichi Suzuki "listen and play" method to teach Stephanie Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hayes of Collinsville. Miss Hayes is playing a half-size violin.

THE SHINICHI SUZUKI "listen and play" teaching technique is used in the string development program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Brigitte Kittel (right), seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kittel of Granite City, is learning to play a quarter-size violin with the assistance of Patricia Murphy (left) of Cork, Ireland. Miss Murphy came to SIUE to study with Prof. John Kendall, head of the string development program.

Mrs. Theresa Bauer, 81, dies

Mrs. Theresa Bauer, 81, of 1236 Klein St., Venice, a native of Austria, died at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville.

She resided in Venice 44 years. Mrs. Bauer had been in ill health for six years and hospitalized for one week. A member of the Vorwarts Singing Society of St. Louis, she also belonged to the Meramec Sport Club of St. Louis. She was of the Catholic faith.

Survivors include her husband, Anton Bauer; a son, William Bauer of Alton; a daughter, Mrs. Carl (Eleanor) Struckmeyer of Belleville; six grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. Another son, Anton Bauer Jr., died in 1955. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Cable cut, stolen

Robert Temm, district manager of the Union Electric Co., reported at 9:15 p.m. yesterday that thieves cut through a live copper power line to steal an estimated 1,500 feet of the wiring from the company's tower near Box 1306, Slough Road.

Temm said the wiring, valued at $1,200, was taken sometime between June 19 and yesterday. He said the wire had an estimated 9,000 volts of electricity flowing through it at the time.

CAR OVERTURNS
Thomas Gehrs, 39, Edwardsville, was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday at 1:15 a.m. suffering chest pains and a one-half inch laceration to the temple. Gehrs was injured when the car he was driving overturned in a one-car accident on I-270.

Childers quits school board post at Madison

James Childers resigned by letter as a member of the Madison School Board, Tuesday night, giving "personal reasons" as the cause for his action. The school board met in special session Tuesday night.

Childers was elected to the board April 8, 1972, and then was elected to serve as president. He resigned as president shortly after his election, stating he could not devote the time needed. Chester McManaway was then elected president.

According to Superintendent John Palchiff, the board will fill the vacancy by appointment within the next 30 days. The board approved an increase of 2 cents a mile for automobile travel for employees using their cars outside the district. The rate is now 12 cents a mile.

A discussion and review of the eight applications for principal of the Lewis Baer school occupied most of Tuesday's meeting. No decision was made. Superintendent Palchiff said the board is seeking applications for the principal's position at Madison High School.

Broad participation urged in school advisory group

Active participation on the Citizens Advisory Council of the Granite City School District will determine the success and extent of community input into the school program, S. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, told the Rotary Club in its regular noon luncheon meeting at the YMCA Tuesday.

Noting that the advisory group is made up of representatives of 15 organizations, including service clubs, labor, parent groups, students, business and educators, Davis told the club: "In January of 1973, under guidelines issued by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, this district along with the other school districts in Illinois embarked upon a new direction in public education. The first emphasis was to establish attainable goals toward which a school district could work. These goals were divided into system goals and student goals. This was not a new concept within itself but rather a more formal approach. 'Schools have always known the ultimate goal - the education of a child to his or her highest potential. 'But now this is being formally documented into various categories with target dates for progress analysis. 'The second thrust of this effort is to gain the participation and input of the local lay citizenry. 'The Board of Education set up the mechanism for this participation by establishing a Citizens Advisory Council made up of representatives of 15 organizations including service clubs, labor, parent groups, students, business, and educators. Each group selected its own representatives. Beginning in May, 1973 this group began to function. 'After its organization, the council began initial drafts of system and student goals. After refining these they were placed in questionnaire form and distributed to the public for their evaluation of how the school district was performing in the fifty-one categories identified by the Council and placed in the questionnaire. 'The distribution of the questionnaires was accompanied by publicity in the newspaper so as to inform the public of the program and to help stimulate participation in the survey. The council distributed 15,398 questionnaires and 7,110 were returned or 46.5 per cent. 'Based upon the returns the CAC was divided into subcommittees to develop need statements, performance objectives and outlines for all program development. 'One of the many goals established by the CAC was to help insure public participation in the educational process. 'Avenues of communications have always been available, i.e. 1. Governance of school districts by lay persons, 2. Parent-Teacher conferences, 3. Parent-administrator conferences, 4. Citizens Advisory groups such as the vocational advisory council and Title I advisory council that also operates within this district, 5. PTA meetings. 'However, the CAC wishes for the district to research other areas for attaining common input and for informing the public of the school program. 'Two of our schools have already started by developing informal coffee type meetings where parents discuss common problems and where school personnel act as discussion stimulators and advisors. 'Some schools are looking into more frequent written communications with their patrons. 'But perhaps the best avenue of approach in getting the public's desire channeled into the educational endeavors of this community is that which has already begun to function - The Citizens Advisory Committee. 'The potential of this organization is tremendous. Here is a recognized group which the Board of Education has had basically, 'we are interested in public participation - you represent the various segments of the community and can act as a catalyst to advise the school district on the direction it should follow in providing the many services offered by a school district. 'The council through its many hours of work recommended goals to the Board of Education for adoption and the Board approved these - the wheels needed to reach the goals have started. There is, however, one major item that needs to be supplied continually - that of each organization supplying a representative who is interested and willing to devote time and effort to the work of the council. 'Some organizations did not send representatives, and some representatives only attended a few meetings. 'Mr. Edwards, the council, and the Board of Education are vitally interested in seeing more representation on the council because the broader the representation the more comprehensive will be the community input. 'The original goals have been established. These, however, will need monitoring, re-evaluating, and updating as the years go by. 'I can foresee the council periodically re-surveying the public's opinion on how well the school district is meeting its goals. I can see the council acting as a sounding board for new ideas and policies that are being considered. I can see a great deal of good for the pupils, the schools, and the community they serve if this council truly functions. Its success or failure will depend upon those who do or should participate in its activities. 'If you are asked, accept; if you accept, participate; there is no more worthy cause than serving the boys and girls who will be the benefactors of this vital work."

Inflated election costs prompt consolidation idea

By ROBERT E. ESTILL

SPRINGFIELD — Too many and too costly — that is the consensus of some state and local officials concerned with the multiplicity of elections in a time of ever-increasing costs.

A single statewide election can cost taxpayers more than $4 million. And that doesn't include the cost of the plethora of local elections for cities, villages, townships, school districts and the great mass of special districts — airport, sanitary, fire protection, and others.

"The only way to cut the cost of elections is to have fewer of them," says Sen. John Graham, R-Barrington, chairman of the State Election Laws Commission which has proposed a new election code including provisions for consolidation.

Voters don't need a special commission to tell them there is an abundance of elections.

Next year will bring another test of the voter's civic-mindedness with a full round of city, village, township and special district elections.

All these, of course, cost money — tax money. The actual costs of elections statewide is difficult to discern because local governments pay their own tab, and the state has paid only on rare instances.

One such instance was in 1964 when, due to the legislature's failure to agree on re-apportionment, every lawmaker ran "at large" instead of from a specific district. That "bedsheet ballot" election cost $1.86 million.

The state again was to pick up the bill for the primary and general elections of Constitutional Convention delegates in 1969 — a $6.19 million tab. The referendum on adoption of the 1970 constitution cost $3.4 million.

And printing and publication costs are on the upswing. An Illinois Legislative Council survey of local election officials on costs of the March, 1972 primary and the April, 1972 local elections (primarily county boards) pegged the cost of statewide elections at between $3.37 million and $4.26 million, depending on the size of the ballots, number of candidates and referendums.

ELECTION CALENDAR

Nov. 5 — General election of federal, state, judicial, congressional legislative, and county officers.

1975

Feb. 11 — Primary for cities that have one or more townships wholly within their boundaries.

Feb. 25 — Primary election for other cities.

April 1 — General election for cities with one or more townships wholly within their boundaries and for village presidents and trustees in villages with a population of 50,000 or more.

April 15 — General election for other cities (without whole townships within boundaries) and for village president and trustees in villages with a population of less than 50,000. What can be done to curb costs?

Sen. Graham says the answer has to be through consolidation — of setting annual one day in April of odd-numbered years for all local elections. But he has doubts that will come soon, if ever.

He expects the legislature to devote its energies to budgetary matters at this session and put off election questions until the 1975 session. He foresees a battle royal when it does come.

The Municipal League, school, village and township officials are opposed to provisions putting control of elections in the hands of county clerks, a provision Graham deems necessary for uniformity.

"But they want to be little entities unto their own," he said. "And the school districts don't want the widespread attention that would come (with consolidation)."

He said school officials would rather keep their elections separate on the premise that's when "the forgers get out and the agitators don't."

Graham is hopeful some legislative "surgery" could save the measure but said that avenue is risky.

"I'm afraid we would lose all interest (among supporters) if we had to gut it before we could pass it," Graham said.

Similar sentiments were voiced by Sen. David Regner, R-Mount Prospect, chairman of a Senate subcommittee which has conducted four hearings on the proposed new election code and plans one final hearing this month in Southern Illinois.

Regner, with considerable understatement, said the four hearings held in central and northern Illinois have produced a "negative reaction."

"It's about 40 to one against it," he said. "The main objection is to giving all the authority to county clerks."

The school board people are concerned not only because it takes authority away from them but because they see it as the first stepping-stone to having their elections along national party lines (by tying it in with partisan elections).

Regner believes the odds against passage could be cut at least in half if, instead of trying to pass an entire new code to replace the 1943 code, they go with a series of bills to make changes where needed.

The opposition could be reduced if they consolidated but allowed local authorities to maintain their jurisdiction instead of placing all power in the hands of county clerks, he said.

All local elections could still be held on the same spring day, but the various officials would share polling places, responsibilities and costs.

For example, School Board, Park District, city and even the partisan township elections could all be held on the same day, with each unit sharing facilities and costs.

Regner concedes that lumping partisan and nonpartisan elections could still cause some problems.

"We probably would get the same beef from school people, but not to the same extent as if we held their elections with state and national elections," he said.

Without consolidation, Regner sees no way of making major cuts in election expenses but says there are some areas where "you can pick away a little here and a little there."

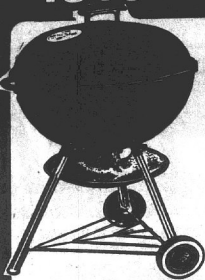

He noted the legislature last year approved his bill eliminating the need to post two election notices in each precinct, an unnecessary expense since elections are widely publicized in the news media. That saved $200,000 in Cook County alone. He plans to introduce new legislation to eliminate the same posting requirement for in-precinct registrations.

But election officials generally see little hope of curbing costs without consolidation. "The only thing I can think of is consolidation," says John Hofferkamp, director of the State Board of Elections.

"Every time you turn around there's an election. It would be ideal to limit to one primary and one general election, but you would never get away with it. Many don't want to consolidate for fear of a landslide (along party lines at a national or state level) carrying the opposition in. The same thing is true with schools and park districts."

Nameoki advances drainage plans

Drainage problems again dominated much of Monday night's Nameoki Township Board of Auditors meeting.

The board agreed to have drainage problems along the south side of Harrison Avenue, surveyed and to have plans prepared for an open-ear drainage system to remove water.

The township moved from the talking to the action stage on drainage issues earlier this year after an attorney's opinion indicated that townships have the authority to alter drainage, only when a health hazard exists.

This month, Mrs. Helen Hawkins was appointed health officer for the township and has been assisting Township Supervisor Louis Whitsett in planning the drainage programs.

Whitsett reported he plans to have Harrison Avenue drainage difficulties resolved by allowing the water to flow into the new Northland Estates 4 and 5 subdivision area. Developers of that subdivision have agreed to allow the Harrison Avenue water drain into a holding pond they are to construct there.

From the holding pond, the developers will use a lift station to force the water through an underground drainage line east along Harrison Avenue to a new drainage line being constructed by the state along Route 205. The Madison County Land Use committee approved the developers' drainage plan Monday. The plan previously was ok'd by Granite City and the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

It must yet be approved by Township Highway Commissioner Albert Bell.

Whitsett told the board that plans also are progressing for a drainage system east from the Parkview Estates area and under the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks into the Bishop Slough.

A farmer has constructed a dam in the slough, but the extra water will just flood the farm land and the township will not be responsible for any damages, Whitsett felt. He said as long as the township drains Parkview Estates into an existing watershed, it will not be responsible for blockages in the watershed.

He said a health hazard exists in the Parkview Estates area as well as along Harrison. The Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab engineering firm of Granite City already has been asked to design a drainage system for that area. Whitsett estimated plans for the line will cost $2,000 to $3,000. The Alton and Southern Railroad has already agreed to enlarge its culvert under the A&S tracks, but the agreement has been only verbal. A written agreement is being sought, the board was told.

Township Attorney Nick D. Vasileff said he felt the culvert could be enlarged, as long as the bottom height of the culvert is not dropped. "If we make that culvert lower, I think we might be liable for any damages caused by flooding on the other side," Vasileff stated.

Vasileff presented easement forms to Whitsett to be used in obtaining rights-of-way for the Harrison Avenue drainage. Six residents are affected.

A resolution was passed, on Whitsett's recommendation, requiring approval of the majority of the six residents of final plans for the drainage line before construction can begin. The resolution also calls for $1 payments to each resident for easements.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., June 27, 1974 Page 18

Asked what would happen if the residents would not approve the plan, Whitsett admitted, "We wasted our money on the engineering." Federal revenue sharing funds are being used for the drainage planning.

A resident of the township asked if the East Side Levee and Sanitary District Board of Directors may be willing to pay for engineering on drainage programs, since the district is responsible for drainage. Whitsett responded, "It is my opinion that the levee board would not pay anything."

One resident complained that all drainage programs funded by revenue sharing are to aid the northern half of the township.

"That money belongs to all of the people, and not just those in the northern part," he said. He said drainage improvements also are needed in the Cloverleaf Addition, under the Route 111 viaduct near Route 162, and in other areas.

Gospel singers at Bethel Pentecostal

Charlie Adams and the Chaplains, a gospel singing group, will present a musical program at Sunday's 11 a.m. worship service, at Bethel Temple Pentecostal Church, 2400 E. 25th St., according to the Rev. Ralph McKinney, pastor.

The public is invited to attend all services at the church. The building formerly was occupied by the First Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. McKinney said.

MRS. DAVIS ENTERTAINS VISITING RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Stoffel of Arlington, Va., have returned home after spending a short holiday as house guests of Mrs. Stoffel's grandmother, Mrs. Bethel J. Davis of State Street.

While here the couple celebrated their first wedding anniversary. Mrs. Stoffel is the former Beth O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. O'Connor Jr., of Arlington.

The Stoffels shortly will leave Virginia for Augusta, Ga., where they will make their future home.

DEMOLAY MOTHERS CLUB BENEFIT SALE SATURDAY

The Demolay Mothers Club of Granite City will sponsor a rummage sale from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at 2623 Madison Ave., Mrs. Betty Young, president, said today.

Clothing, furniture and dishes will be among the items offered for sale, she reported. Proceeds from the sale will be used to aid projects of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of Demolay.

LOYAL GUNDERSONS ADOPT KOREAN BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Gunderson, 2649 Center St., are announcing the adoption of their first child, a boy. They have named him Michael Todd.

The youngster is one year old and came to the local family from Seoul, Korea, through the Holt Adoption Program, Inc., in Eugene, Ore.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gunderson and Mr. and Mrs. Aram Darakjian, all of Granite City.

JEWELRY IS MISSING

Dorothy Upshaw, 2568 E. 27th St., reported at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday that an engagement ring, two wedding rings, a lodge ring and $25 cash were missing from her home. She said she thought someone may have taken them during the day Wednesday while she was working outside.

POLITICAL QUESTION

Is it Illinois Democratic Fund or Walker's fund?

By ROBERT E. ESTILL

SPRINGFIELD — The IDF is different things to different people. Officially it is the Illinois Democratic Fund. Democrats unfriendly to Gov. Daniel Walker fear IDF could mean independent

Dan's Fund, an instrument through which Walker could channel financial aid to those who help him while denying it to those who don't. The IDF started where the All Illinois Democratic Committee left off. The AIDC was the fund raising arm of Walker's 1972 campaign; the IDF was formed last fall to pay off

Walker's campaign deficit and supposedly provide funds and organization to Democrats at all levels. Unquestionably the IDF, with a potential of raising $1 million a year, is Walker's baby. Its executive director is David Cleverdon, a 32-year-old onetime amateur magician, theological student, civil rights worker, congressional aide and director of organization for Walker's 1972 campaign. Cleverdon left his $30,000-a-year job as an assistant to Walker in April to take over the helm of the IDF (by appointment of Walker) at the same salary.

Crucial determinations of which candidates' fund requests will be granted and in what amounts will be made by a yet to be appointed permanent board. Cleverdon said. The permanent board would be selected by an organizing board which Cleverdon is now lining up. Among those he has asked to serve are Angelo

Geacaris, who headed the AIDC; Chicago attorney Hal Shapiro, who was chairman for the IDF's $25-a-ticket dinner in Chicago in November; Mrs. Leslie Kohn, a black committeewoman from Chicago's South Side who serves on the Democratic National Committee's Vice Presidential Selection Committee; and Seymour Golden, a Rock Island accountant who Cleverdon said is close to Secretary of State Michael Howlett. Exactly how much input and representation other Democratic state officials — most notably Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan — will have on the board remains to be seen. When asked if Hartigan would have a representative on the board, Cleverdon insinuated Hartigan was only a reflection of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley or State Democratic Chairman John Touhy, a staunch Daley ally.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., June 27, 1974 Page 19
"I don't know," Cleverdon said. "Why go to Hartigan if you go to Daley or go to Touhy."
Cleverdon later modified his statement to say he thought they would go to the Democratic state officials for "input and advice" but not necessarily for representation on the board.
"We'll go out to the county chairmen and the state central committeemen," he said.

The IDF does differ from both the AIDC and the IDF's Republican counterpart, the United Republican Fund, in one important aspect — the IDF is naming its donors.
The AIDC is complying with Cook County State's Atty. Bernard Carey's subpoena for a list of $20,000 plus contributors.
The URF has never disclosed its contributors, a point Cleverdon always stresses. The IDF has made public an audited report of all contributions from Oct. 1 when the organization was formed through Jan. 31. It lists the names but not addresses of donors in groups by amount — $1,001 to $5,000; $501 to $1,000; $101 to $500; and $1 to $100. Absent from the list are Daley, Touhy, the Cook County Central Committee, the Democratic State Central Committee and the Democratic statewide office holders.

Cleverdon, who plans to launch a membership drive this month with a goal of 10,000 new members, said they also will be naming subsequent donors who buy IDF memberships ranging from $3 to $5,000.
"We'll probably do it on an annual basis since it will be such a horrendous task," he said.

He is, however, less open about how the money raised has been and will be spent, saying that is up for the board to decide.

Cleverdon said the November dinner in Chicago, attended by some 6,000 persons, netted "something in excess of $100,000," most of which went to retiring Walker's campaign deficit.

He said he couldn't say how much went to Walker's bills, but said "somewhere in the range" of $80,000 to $100,000 went for that purpose. He has said IDF money was not used in primary contests.

If the goal of adding 10,000 members to the IDF's current some 3,000 members is successful, that could add about $100,000 a year, he estimated.

A series of locally organized fund-raising parties, in concert with the IDF's membership drive, could build the kitty considerably in a full year of operation, he said.

"I think it's before the realm of possibility to raise a million dollars in a full year," he said.
"But we won't know until mid-summer how much we can expect to raise for the 1974 campaigns."

Cleverdon sees his job as the organizer, the guy who has to "make it happen."

How did a young man from Louisiana who once dabbled in magic come up with the job of making funds appear in Illinois? It was a circuitous route.
Cleverdon was born in Shreveport, La., but his father, a forester, moved to New York after World War II.
Cleverdon was reared in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. As part of an effort to correct a speech impediment, Cleverdon began practicing magic as means of putting himself before an audience and helping to overcome the speech handicap.

When he reached college age, he decided to go to Wooster College in Wooster, Ohio, partly because it had a good speech department and partially because of his dislike for the East Coast.
"I didn't like the East Coast," he said. "They have an incredible mystique. They think the country ends at the Appalachian Mountains."
After obtaining a degree in philosophy and religion from Wooster, Cleverdon and his wife traveled the country by motorcycle, and he went to the University of Chicago's Divinity School with the idea of becoming a day theologian — a teacher, and not a preacher.
It was here he met a man who changed the course of his life — a civil rights worker from Mississippi, his face scarred from an accident when he was run off the road. The man had come to the Chicago campus to recruit volunteers.
"He said 'some of you are going to be beaten, some of you are going to be jailed, some of you are going to die,'" Cleverdon recalls.

City to hire overpass engineer

Selection of an engineer to conduct a feasibility study for location of an overpass at the railroad tracks between downtown Granite City and West Granite will be made from applications received by city officials, it was reported at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday night.

Brochures were referred by the council to the chairman of the city's street and alley committee, for study. Boyd reported that his committee has received applications from six engineering firms and Mayor Paul Schuler said his office has received several others which will be referred to Boyd and his committee.

The study for location of the structure, which is expected to be built either on Niedringhaus Avenue or Nineteenth Street, will be financed with a $12,500 appropriation of city motor fuel taxes.

Schuler has told the council that he believes a grant for construction of the overpass can be obtained under the new Federal Aid to Urban Systems program. The FAUS program will be administered over a five-year period with funds granted each year to communities in this region with approved projects.

The council Monday night also delayed again the payment of $48,696 as final payments to the G. H. Sternberg Construction Co. for the improvement of Johnson Road. Boyd, as chairman of the street and alley committee, said he believed the city has no alternative but to pay the bill since the job has been accepted by the state highway department and by the city motor fuel tax engineer for that project.

Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward, who has several other aldermen, expressed dissatisfaction with curbing work on some sections of the Johnson Road improvement.

The final payment was deferred on a motion that Robert Krost, chief district engineer of the state highway department, be asked to personally check the work to which council members are objecting. The motion was approved and City Clerk Robert Stevens was instructed to write to Krost asking him to make the inspection.

Council members also authorized completion of a new agreement with the Division of Waterways under which the city will operate and maintain the new sewer drainage line from Dorey Slough. The new line will dispose of slough waters into the city's existing sewer lines and then into the Namecki drainage ditch.

The council spent an hour viewing a slide demonstration by Dan Cross of the I. E. Dupont Co. showing the use of a polyethylene sewer pipe that is a liner through existing sewer lines, replacing deteriorated sewers without extensive construction work.

Cross told the council the Levee bill favored

A move to split the East Side Levee and Sanitary District appears to have failed. The remainder of this week and the weekend will determine the fate of a bill in the Illinois Senate. The bill would allow voters in November to deter-

Warns of fireworks ban

Illegal use of fireworks in the Quad-City area may lead to a ban, Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer reminded residents Monday night.

Veizer said city ordinances prohibit the use of all fireworks, except sparklers, in Granite City, and similar ordinances prohibit the use of nearly all fireworks in the county and in the other cities of the Quad-City area.

This will be the last Fourth of July Holiday season when sparklers will be allowed, he said. A new federal law prohibits the sale and use of all types of fireworks, but the effective date of the law has been postponed past the holiday this year to allow manufacturers and sellers of fireworks to dispose of their stocks.

Veizer emphasized that, although enforcement of the federal law has been postponed, city ordinance 27.35 still prohibits the use of firecrackers, cherry bombs, smoke bombs and pyrotechnic devices as well as other forms of fireworks.

He said the law will be enforced strictly and all calls concerning fireworks will be answered with citations issued where necessary. Each infraction of the law may be considered a separate offense, he explained.

The law also pertains to selling and storing fireworks, he added.

$15,000 damage by fire

A blaze at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary C. Davis, 2273 Shriener Drive, Northland Estates, off Maryville Road, at 2:10 p.m. Wednesday, resulted in damage to the dwelling and contents estimated at $15,000.

Nine firemen and five junior firemen from the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department responded to the call and were at the scene one hour and 15 minutes. They were assisted by a Granite City Fire Department crew.

Prior to the fire-fighters' arrival, the Davis' 12-year-old son, Gary, had emptied the contents of two fire extinguishers on a bed which apparently had ignited from a uniquely designed and furnished fireplace. The dwelling features a glass enclosed indoor swimming pool adjacent to the living area and contains many valuable antiques.

The bedroom where the fire originated is a total loss, the owner said. Dense smoke throughout the house also caused considerable damage. Davis added.

Davis said his son saw the bed on fire and rushed outside to the family's dune buggy, grabbing the two extinguishers. After emptying the solution on the bed, the boy closed the door to the bedroom and hurried to find his mother and sister elsewhere in the house. His younger brother and sister were outdoors at the time.

The Davis home is considered a uniquely designed and furnished showplace. The dwelling features a glass enclosed indoor swimming pool adjacent to the living area and contains many valuable antiques.

The bedroom where the fire originated is a total loss, the owner said. Dense smoke throughout the house also caused considerable damage. Davis added.

Mrs. Mary Tawney, 83, dies

Her husband, Jess Tawney, died in 1958.

Survivors include a son, Jess Tawney Jr. of Madison; two daughters, Mrs. Irene Tawney of St. Louis and Mrs. Frank (Margaret) Reidelberger, both of Venice; two brothers, Mike and Frank Tawney, both of Madison; and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Women of Moose to install

Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, made plans to install officers on Saturday evening followed by a dance at the Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets, during a meeting last night, conducted by Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, junior regent.

Invitations from the Collinsville chapter to attend its College of Regents ceremony on July 10 and the East St. Louis chapter's installation were read.

Mrs. Winnie Lippman was accepted as a new member.

Cake and coffee were served after the business session to 45 members, honoring those with June birthdays. The honorees included Rose Summers, Louise Bodi, Margaret Feeley, Virginia Sever, Marie Hampton and Elizabeth Hanlon.

Each received a gift from the club. Mrs. Helen Davis was presented with a gift for her service as birthday chairman for the year.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Karen Anders and Mrs. Nellie Shane.

Bi-State aid bill approved

The Downstate Public Transportation Act, a bill which includes $3.2 million for the Bi-State Transit Agency, has been approved by both the Illinois House and Senate. The bill must go back to the House for concurrence in a Senate amendment and then will be given Gov. Dan Walker for his signature.

The bill provides one thirty-second of the sales tax collected for operating deficits. However, Bi-State will receive two thirty-second of the sales tax collected, bringing its total figure to $3.2 million, rather than $1.6 million as originally incorporated in the bill.

Bi-State also was exempted from a provision in bill calling for local districts to match the state money. Local legislators have argued in the state legislature that the Bi-State agency in Illinois could not realistically afford to put up matching funds.

Another bill giving Bi-State an additional $1.5 million in the passage stage in the Senate. The bill would give downstate carriers 30 cents for each Illinois rider carried.

BICYCLIST HURT
Seven Rivers, 16, of 4725 Warnock Ave., received minor injuries when he rode his bicycle into the parked auto of a 1964 Chevrolet, 46 Cambridge St., in a parking lot in the 1500 block of Johnson Road at 12:25 p.m. Wednesday, it was reported.

House votes pay hikes

Large salary hikes for top government officials have been approved by the Illinois House and sent to the Senate.

Under the bill, many of the chief state administrators would get almost immediate raises ranging from $3,000 a year to $15,000. Salaries of top officials would jump to $52,000, a total of $2,000 more than Gov. Dan Walker is paid.

Bills to raise state legislators' pay by $6,000 a year and state judges' salaries by $5,000 to $13,000 annually are moving along in the Senate and could be passed and sent to the governor for his signature today.

In other action this week, the House approved a measure giving public school teachers the legal right to strike. However, a similar bill last year was killed in the Senate.

The House voted 160-0 Tuesday to send the Senate a $22 million budget for operation of the state Department of Agriculture in fiscal 1975.

Two rival tax relief plans were passed by the Illinois House, but prospects for their passage in the Senate appear dim.

One of the plans, sponsored by House Minority Leader Clyde Chaste, D-Anna, would increase the personal exemption on state income tax from $1,000 to $1,500 and raise state income tax on corporations from four per cent to five per cent.

The second bill, sponsored by Rep. James Houlihan, D-Chicago, calls for removal of a tax on drugs and medicines. As amended by the House, the bill would also lower the sales tax on food by one per cent.

Senate passes ethics change
Candidates for local office would not have to file ethics statements under an amendment to the Ethics Act passed 17-1 by the Illinois Senate late Tuesday.

The amendment was attached to a measure designed to bail out more than 500 candidates for local offices who were removed from the November election by the State Board of Elections after the candidates failed to file their ethics statements by a May 10 deadline.

The House earlier had passed the bail-out bill, which would give the 500 candidates a 12-day grace period in July to file their tardy ethics statements.

The amendment would sever local candidates from the Ethics Act requiring them to periodically file statements of economic interest. Candidates for state office would not be affected by the change.

County may get more school aid
School districts in Madison County could get an additional $894,000 and those in St. Clair County would receive another $99,000 yearly under an alteration of the state school aid formula proposed Wednesday by Rep. Clyde Chaste, D-Anna, in the Illinois House.

The change was approved 93-63 as the House voted to add the provision to another school bill. Final House passage and Senate approval still are pending.

If approved, schools in 97 downstate counties would receive an estimated $16 million yearly from the formula, Chaste said. Only five counties would receive no extra money.

To lessen the disparity between poorer and richer districts, Chaste's formula would alter each district's tax rate by applying it to the state average per capita income, rather than with lower than average per capita income would receive proportionately more money for their educational costs.

Car hits house
Miss Barbara Parkinson, 21, of 2111 Amos Ave., was injured when her car struck another auto, went over three lawns and struck the home of Mentoishi Olanian, 2842 Madison Ave., at 12:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Miss Parkinson said she swerved her southbound car to avoid striking another car. The car went out of control and collided with the northbound car of N. G. Moehlenkamp, 2241 Adams St.

After the collision, Miss Parkinson's car continued over the oncoming lanes and into the lawns at 2842 and 2844 Madison Avenue before going onto Olanian's lawn and into the house.

Miss Parkinson later went to St. Elizabeth Hospital with an abrasion to her right arm and an injury to her right ankle. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Farm census in January

Farmers and ranchers, get ready for the 1974 Census of Agriculture. Keep good records of your farming operations this year.

This is the request of the Bureau of the Census, the federal agency that will conduct the 20th nationwide Census of Agriculture during the first part of 1975. The Bureau is part of the U. S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Farmers will receive their report forms by mail early in January. They should fill them out and mail them back promptly. Commerce Department officials noted. Having accurate and detailed records will make it easy for farmers to do this. Questions will be much like those in the last previous agriculture census which covered farming and ranching during 1969, it was noted.

Questions will ask for acreage of cropland harvested, quantity and market value of major crops produced, acres irrigated and means of irrigation; acreage treated with pesticides, lime and other chemicals; acreage fertilized by kind of fertilizer (dry, liquid, gas), and other pertinent information.

Questions on livestock and poultry will cover the number of each kind on the farm as well as the number sold and the sales value. Quantities and sales value of their products will be sought.

Details will be requested about farm products produced or marketed under contract. A few questions will be included about hired and contract labor, the number of workers and cash wages paid; also about any injuries to workers, it was reported.

Further expenditure questions will cover amounts spent for feed, fertilizer, pesticides, lime, gasoline and other farm fuels, machine hire, and livestock and poultry purchases.

There will be questions about the various types and uses of land, such as cropland not harvested, other pasture and woodland, and about the value of land and buildings on the farm.

Operators will be asked about farm related income such as recreational services, customwork provided other farmers, or payments for participation in Government farm programs, according to the report.

Two types of report forms are being prepared: one for farms with sales of $2,500 or more, and another less detailed form for places with sales of less than $2,500. No matter which form a farmer receives, he need answer only those questions that apply to his operation. He should skip questions that apply only to other types of agricultural operations.

By Federal law, every report is confidential. It may be seen only by sworn Census employees and may be used only for statistical purposes. The mail method reinforces confidentiality. It also allows the farmer to complete the report at his convenience with accurate information from his records, officials said.

To tour Russia

Don W. Adams, a Springfield businessman, has been selected as a delegate to attend a three-week seminar in the Soviet Union for the American Council of Young Political Leaders.

The Council operates under the auspices of the State Department and is affiliated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Twenty U.S. political leaders under age 40 were selected for this exchange program with Soviet Russia. Delegates had to pass the national selection committee, obtain security clearances and meet high personal and ethical standards.

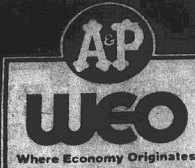

After extensive State Department and NATO briefings, the delegation will arrive in Moscow on July 2. The group will attend seminars and study tours in various Russian cities and return July 19.

Adams, the only delegate from Illinois, is chairman of the Republican State Committee and vice-chairman of the State Board of Elections.

Brad R. Weiss on Dean's list
Brad R. Weiss, Granite City, was listed on the spring quarter Dean's list released by Dr. Richard Ditzel, vice-president for academic affairs at Bemidji State College, Bemidji, Minn. Bemidji State students carrying twelve or more credit hours during any one term and earning a "B" or better average are listed on the Dean's list, which is published quarterly.

NATIONAL CELEBRITY
is this 8-year-old Angora cat named Pretti, held by its owner, Sherle Bolt of Granite City, which is featured in a full-page advertisement in the July issue of Readers' Digest. The owner said she learned a St. Louis photographer was seeking a white cat for advertising purposes and she took Pretti for an audition. Pretti was an instant success and in the magazine advertisement sits atop a stack of boxes of a nationally known cat food.

Venice man charged in arson case

Arthur "Binkey" Billick, 21, of 639 Jefferson St., Venice, has been charged with arson and felonious wounding and is being held by the St. Louis Police Department pending a court hearing.

Billick was arrested by Granite City police this week and held for St. Louis Bomb and Arson squad members after he waived extradition.

He allegedly dumped a container of gasoline on the ground at a South St. Louis service station and ignited it, severely burning a companion, William Wilson 30, also of Venice.

The incident reportedly happened Friday after Billick dumped what he claimed was watered-down gasoline and demanded a refund for a purchase he had made.

According to police, Wilson charged Billick threw a lighted match on the gasoline from an open car window. As the gas ignited, Billick was unable to start his car and he and Wilson ran from the auto, police said.

Billick got clear but Wilson was trapped in the flames and suffered first and second-degree burns on his arms and legs. He is in serious condition in City Hospital, St. Louis.

The flames also damaged two other cars in the lot before the fire was extinguished.

According to St. Louis police, Billick admitted dumping the gas on the service station driveway, but has denied setting it afire.

Man stabbed at Madison tavern

Ray Valencia, 23, of 2221 Delmar Ave., is reported in satisfactory condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he is being treated for a stab wound in the left upper abdomen.

Madison police, responding to a report of a fight in progress, said they found Valencia lying on the floor near the east end of the bar at the Starlight Tavern, 1225 Madison Ave., Madison, during the weekend.

Boyd Ulese Davis, 49, of 417 Lincoln St., Venice, was charged with attempted murder following his arrest at 12:55 p.m. Saturday.

Davis was released on notice to appear by Judge Andrew Matosian.

Safe boating program offered

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 39 is offering a safe-boating program to any organization in the area that is interested.

The course, which can last between one to three hours, depending on the participation of the members, is known as "Skippers Outboard Special."

Further information may be obtained by contacting Harold G. Gilling, Flotilla commander, 1125 West High St., Edwardsville, or Gil Swengrosh, Alton, phone 618-465-9432.

Safe boating week is June 30 through July 6.

Quad-Cityans donate $7,965 to cancer fund

Contributions from Quad-City residents to the American Cancer Society's 1974 campaign currently total $7,965, according to Joe Lucido and Ron Luebben, drive chairmen in the Quad-Cities.

Of the aggregate amount, Police Chief Frank Dutko, Crusade chairman for Madison, deposited a total of $1,202, and Mrs. Margaret Lee, Venice Crusade chairman, contributed $500 in donations from Venice residents.

Drive leaders said this week the 1974 challenge goal is to provide services to cancer patients and aid in research projects hopefully will be reached and possibly surpassed.

The campaign co-chairmen accorded special recognition to volunteer workers in the Quad-City area, noting especially those persons who solicited door-to-door seeking contributions from their neighbors. Boy Scout units and block captain organizers similarly were commended.

Earl Dotzauer, business chairman, reported Wednesday the sum of $600 was realized from the "Send a Mouse to College" program.

The project, which will provide 1,200 mice for cancer research, principally was handled through Granite City schools, including four local parochial schools.

A tag day event supervised by Rollin Henn, who recruited volunteers from local Boy Scout troops, resulted in $500 being added to the campaign total, Lucido said.

It is through these contributions that the American Cancer Society maintains its programs of public and professional education, service to thousands of cancer patients and support of research, which someday, hopefully, will wipe out cancer in our lifetimes, Lucido said.

He urged persons to become familiar with the seven warning signals of cancer—change in bowel or bladder habits; a sore that does not heal; unusual bleeding or discharge; thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; obvious change in a wart or mole; and nagging cough or persistent hoarseness.

Anyone experiencing one or more of these warning signals should contact their physician immediately, Lucido advised.

ROTC training

Joseph A. Lanahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Lanahan, 2523 Benton St., is undergoing three weeks of aviation indoctrination at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Tex.

The indoctrination is part of his summer training as a member of the Navy's Reserve Officer Candidate Program. It includes instructional flights, and academic courses in aviation physiology, aerodynamics, navigation and career patterns. Lanahan is scheduled to participate in further training at the Naval Amphibious Station, Little Creek, Va., before returning to his studies at the University of Illinois, Champaign.

Party fetes Miss Scott

A pre-wedding party for Miss Kennette Scott was given at the Polish Hall in Madison by the prospective groom's aunts, Miss Rose Grba, Mrs. Louise Tegel, Mrs. Diane Shrum and Mrs. Mary Cromer, and his grandmother, Mrs. Rose Grba. The guest of honor and her fiancé, William J. Bulva, will be married on July 15.

The table centerpiece was a mock wedding cake created from various size towels. The decoration later was given to the honoree by Mrs. Rose Tarasovich.

Guests attending were Betty Bulva, Georgia Scott, Lucy M. Goolsby, Sandy Goolsby, Ann Christoff, Chris Richardson, Martha Adams, Victoria Kostoff, Maxine Costoff, Bea Stentzer, Carol, Doris and Mary Scholser, Mary Ann Komuch, Ann Modrusic, Ann Herman, Dorothy Mance, Mrs. Nick Mance, Ann Mance.

Shower honors Jeri Ennis

Miss Jeri Ennis was guest of honor at a pre-wedding shower given this week at the Nameoki United Methodist Church by Lillian Compton and Pat Ennis.

The wedding colors of pink and white were used throughout the hall and in the table appointments.

Various games were played with prizes going to Norma M. Tankersley, Lynette Utley, Virginia Wolf, Ruth Wolf, Carolyn Maxwell, Ella Mae Watts, Kathryn J. Watts, Peggy Browning, Marie Curry, Florence Sherman, Cheryl Goodman and Carol Donoff.

Other guests attending included Mrs. Dorothy Martin and Mrs. Lena Ennis, mothers of the betrothed couple and Lala Hanks, Bea Bittie, Judy Ellidge, Virginia Carroll, Celeste Johnson, Mary Cooke, Irma Metcalf, Peggy Worley, Sarah Metcalf, Lesley Watts, Mary Dykila, Phyllis Pickler, Earl Benoit, Jennifer Benoit, Phyllis Benoit, Kathy Franklin, Sandy Kraus, Nancy Meadows, Miss Ennis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ennis, will become the bride of Larry Martin, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Martin, on Aug. 3.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT ZELLERMAN. They were married in an afternoon ceremony at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Bend, Ill. The bride is the former Miss Ricki Lennette Magnani, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eyo J. Magnani of Bend.

Ricki Magnani becomes Mrs. Robert Zellerman

St. Joseph Catholic Church in Bend, Ill., was the scene of the wedding on June 15 of Miss Ricki Lennette Magnani, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eyo J. Magnani, 217 W. Central Ave., Bend, and Robert Allen Zellerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zellerman, 1611 Garfield Ave.

The Rev. Ralph S. Guido officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. in a candlelight setting.

Nuptial selections were provided by organist Pam Peters and the soloists, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Heise.

Mr. Magnani escorted his daughter to the altar. She chose a gown of ivory bridal satin. A yoke of Chantilly lace extended over the full sheer sleeves to form a caplet and matching lace created the high neckline and the wide cuffs of her sleeves.

A double row of lace ruffles encircled the hem of the slightly full skirt, sweeping backward into a chapel train. A matching ivory lace headpiece secured her shoulder length veil of ivory illusion.

Matron of honor Mrs. Robert Fritz Jr., a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Stan Welch, the groom's sister, Miss Kathy Jo Seller and Miss Lynne Hall, were dressed alike.

Their dresses were fashioned with molded bodices of floral print in shades of orange, gold, avocado and chestnut brown and the ivory chiffon gathered skirts were bordered with matching floral print.

Each attendant wore an ivory color picture hat.

The groom's nephew, Chris Welch, was the ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Magnani selected a shrimp polyester sleeveless dress with a scoop neck and A-line skirt, complemented with a long sleeve jacket.

Mrs. Zellerman, mother of the groom, chose a pale pink jersey gown, floor length. Made in Empire style with long sleeves, the dress was worn with a long sleeveless coat.

A reception was held at the Bend Civic Center. Bonnie Dallas presided over the guest book. Assisting at the party were Kathy Girardini, Kathy Cislser, Sheila Menietti and Renee Miller.

Members of the bridal party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner at Fazio's Steak House in Bend.

Both young people are graduates of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The bride is a special education teacher and member of CEC. Her husband is employed as an accountant and belongs to Phi Beta Lambda.

The newlyweds are now residing in Granite City.

BPW plans fund raising events

A card party, style show and sing-alongboard dinner were among the events planned by members of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club's finance committee who met last week in the home of Mrs. Gladys Neuman, chairman.

Proposed money-making projects were discussed and several programs were approved and chairmen were named.

Those who will direct various fund-raising activities include Mrs. Ruth Milhouser, card party and products event; Mrs. Rebecca Slate, style show; Mrs. Edna Koblacher, sing-alongboard chicken and dumpling dinner; Mrs. Lois Wetton, bake sale and Mrs. Mary Batson, rummage sale.

The local BPW club also will take part in the annual "Charity Days" program at Nameoki Village Shopping Center, usually held in September.

Also at the planning session were Miss Annelien Smith, club president; and Pauline Weir, Marionrose Lambert, Kathryn Smithson, Ann Graklanoff, Verna Lengyel and Ruth Walk.

ROUNDTABLE MEETING JULY 2 AT PARK

A Roundtable meeting for all Cub Scout leaders will be held at 7:30 p.m. July 2 at Shelter 5 in Wilson Park, according to Mrs. Pat Foote of the Roundtable staff.

Theme of the meeting will be "My Home State" Unit commissioners will be special guests. Mrs. Foote said.

David Boone, 'Pioneer, Explorer' Like Ancestor, Gets SIUE Degree

David C. Boone, 27-year-old Hillsboro native who is a seventh or eighth generation descendant of the 18th century pioneer, Daniel Boone, has graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The modern day Boone is somewhat a pioneer like his ancestor because he has compiled a total of 240 college credit hours, and he has "explored" many fields while attending SIUE "off and on" for nine years.

Boone, who is local program director for Cable Communications Corp., a cable television station, and a member of the gentry County area, received a degree in June in mass communications, with emphasis on television, radio and film. But he only needs eight additional hours for a degree in art education, and he has enough credits for majors in government and psychology.

Boone later plans to seek admittance to the new master's degree program in mass communications at SIUE, and he's even thinking about studying for a doctorate when a program becomes available to his liking.

Boone insists he's not a professional student, as a matter of fact, he plans to write a book entitled, "How Not To Become a Professional Student." He says he simply has changed his mind several times, and now he knows what he wants to do.

EDITING FILM—David C. Boone, a descendant of the famous pioneer, Daniel Boone, edits movie film. He received a degree in mass communications from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in June after studying at the University nine years, "off and on."

lost their lives in the conflict. Boone has produced some rock concerts, and he has combined his musical talent with a flair for art to support his travels on a motorcycle over much of the United States.

Boone enrolled at SIUE the first time on Sept. 23, 1965. He was interested in government, but after three years, his interests changed to art, and he dropped out for a year in 1969 "to get" new perspectives" before enrolling again for two quarters in 1970. Changing his major to psychology, Boone returned for another quarter of study in 1971.

Boone became interested in communications while working for Radio Station WSMI at Litchfield, and in 1972, he enrolled at SIUE as a major in mass communications. But a serious accident on April 18, 1973, postponed his studies for two quarters. The future looks promising for cable television, according to Boone, and he hopes to develop 40 hours a week of local programming for his operations which have headquarters at Nokomis. The television firm began service this spring with a grand opening celebration featuring Miss United States.

Boone says he was especially impressed by Miss USA, and to impress her, he brought her to the SIUE campus for a tour. "She agreed with me that it's one of the prettiest campuses she's ever seen," he said.

But to Boone, the campus is more than "pretty." "I've been around SIUE nine years, off and on," he says. "If I didn't like it, I wouldn't be considering an advanced degree."

A NEW BEACH HOUSE is part of a $145,870 improvement project at Tower Lake recreation area on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The beach house, which is expected to be ready for use by July 4, will provide shower facilities, changing and dressing room space for 80 women and 80 men. The building also will include a first aid room, a food preparation area, and office space. The octagonal-shaped structure will be distinguished by a cedar shake roof and surrounded by a redwood deck. Over 50,000 persons used the beach area last season.

AN OPEN AIR PICNIC PAVILION is under construction at Tower Lake recreation area on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The 1,250-square-foot structure is octagonal shaped like two other new buildings being placed in the area in a $145,870 improvement project being financed by the Student Welfare and Recreation Fund. The pavilion is on a point overlooking the lake and 1,200-foot-long beach and swimming areas.

Professionally qualified Madison County Review Board has an opportunity to accentuate fair property assessments and satisfaction among taxpayers

Taxpayers can be happy—if that is possible in this era of inflation—that increased professionalism has been injected into the Madison County Board of Review.

Contrary to the belief that virtually complete authority is vested in the office of township assessor, the Review Board has the final word on the taxable value of real estate and personal property (subject to the state-set multiplier, which has been "1" in this county for many years).

This authority extends not only to balancing assessment levels between townships but also to making adjustments between valuations of property within each township.

In the past, the Board of Review has consisted of the Madison County Board chairman and two appointed individuals. No more than two of the three could be members of the same party. Those serving until this year were Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City, David McLean, Edwardsville, and Virgil Bardsley, Pin Oak Township.

A new state law stipulates that the board members must have specific qualifications, as determined through written examinations given by the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs. The three on the board did not take the examination, but 12 others did and six passed.

The new Review Board chosen from the six by Chairman Hagnauer and confirmed by the County Board consists of Andrew Gitchoff, 56, Granite City Democrat, operator of a realty and insurance company; Gilbert Heil, 44, Alton Republican, an agent for a Godfrey real estate firm; and Robert Coultas, 47, Edwardsville Democrat, operator of an insurance-realty agency. Gitchoff, chairman, will serve two years and

The names fairly leap out of the roster of the Democratic Advisory Council of Elected Officials.

There are Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, Gov. George C. Wallace, San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, Congressman Shirley Chisholm, Sen. Henry M. "Scoop" Jackson, House Majority Leader Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill.

Also, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of House Ways and Means fame, Gov. Dale Bumpers, who knocked off Sen. J. W. Fulbright in the Arkansas U. S. Senate primary, Sen. George McGovern and on through a list of 54 Democrats—everyone a household word either nationally or in his own bailiwick.

Alphabetized between Martha W. Griffiths, U. S. representative, Michigan, and Hubert H. Humphrey, U. S. senator, Minnesota, comes the name of Hartigan, lieutenant governor, Illinois.

Hartigan, at 35, is probably the youngest member of the Democratic Advisory Council of Elected Officials put together by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and House Speaker Carl Albert.

Two other Illinoisans are council members—Mayor Richard J. Daley and Chicago Congressman Frank Annunzio.

What were they plotting in the Empire Room of the Shoreham Americana? Hartigan was asked when he emerged from an overlong session of a year-long complete council last week. The dissolution of the Republican party.

Not really, Hartigan answered with a grin. But their eye is on 1976 and the shaping of the Democratic platform at the national convention.

Hartigan, whose nominal boss, Gov. Dan Walker, was

Award to American Steel

American Steel Foundries, a division of AMSTED Industries which operates a plant in Granite City, has received a Golden Spike award for its current bumper sticker advertising campaign, "We Believe in the American Rail Way."

The award is given annually by the Association of Railroad Advertising Managers to recognize ad programs which benefit the nation's railroad industry.

The ASF campaign was initiated in November, 1973, when the bumper stickers were attached to a two-page advertisement appearing in Progressive Railroading magazine, a trade journal which goes to more than 8,000 railroad executives.

Subsequent ads were placed in Railway Age, Modern

Railroads and Rail Transit, and Railway Locomotives & Cars, and each ad noted that bumper stickers were available free by writing ASF's Chicago general office.

"To date, the company has received requests for 45,000 stickers, and they're still coming in," said John C. Day, ASF's marketing vice president.

J. Herbert Lund, ASF's manager of marketing services, reported that many railroads have asked for stickers for their employees. "It helps railroad people express pride in their industry," he added.

Lund said that a supply still is available, and noted that, "stickers can be obtained by writing the Marketing Division, American Steel Foundries, 1005 Prudential Plaza, Chicago, Ill. 60601."

Eads Bridge dedicated July 4, 100 years ago

Most Illinoisans celebrated the Fourth of July, 1974, with picnics and fireworks, but the big event of that day was the opening of the Illinois and St. Louis Bridge—the Eads Bridge—across the Mississippi.

The two most discussed subjects in a sampling of the 110 newspapers for the period in the Illinois State Historical Library were the heat wave and the bridge.

The Rock Island Argus reported that "the day was unpleasantly hot," the Peoria Daily Transcript said "the heat was intense and dust covered everything," but the Bloomington Pantagraph found that "most Bloomingtonians staid sensibly at home and exercised their minds in devising means for keeping their bodies cool."

The Pantagraph also reported the mercury in St. Louis "standing for hours at 104 in the shade and not a breath of air stirring." The heat did not discourage the visitors, however, and the Illinois State Journal of Springfield said that "the vast net work of railroads centering at St. Louis was covered with excursion trains... It is believed that not less than 100,000 persons were present."

The Peoria Daily Transcript reported that the formal opening of the Illinois and St.

Louis bridge was celebrated with great pomp and display. The procession was joined by all the military and civil organizations. It was about twelve miles long (and five hours passing the speakers stand).

The bridge was christened with water from the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, the Gulf of Mexico, and the Great Lakes—poured from silver pitchers. The first of the dedication speakers on the platform at the east end of the structure was Illinois Gov. John L. Beveridge. He was followed by the governors of Missouri and Indiana and by Capt. James B. Eads, designer of the bridge.

The only disappointment of the celebration was the evening's fireworks display which was dwarfed by the size of the bridge and won unanimous newspaper criticism.

The most caustic account was printed by the Bloomington Pantagraph, which said the "bridge fireworks were a first class fraud... The only sight aside from the bridge itself worth seeing was the vast crowd; all the rest was little else than humbug."

Most of the state's other citizens went to the "grand old crowds," the Rock Island Argus stated, were "variously estimated from 2,000 to 5,000, according to the magnifying power of the glasses worn."

At those gatherings where there was a speaker's stand the reading of the Declaration of Independence was an essential part of the program.

Other essentials of the day's festivities were fireworks of all kinds—but they were unanimously condemned by the newspapers. The Chicago Evening Journal said "The Mayor issued a proclamation against the use of fireworks in the city on the Fourth. The order was unheeded by every little shaver in town. Now, the query is: Who runs the city—the Mayor, the Aldermen, or the small boys?"

On another page, the same paper carried the story of a 13-year-old boy killed by a homemade "volcano" and a long list of those injured in other incidents. The Peoria Transcript reported that "at Pontiac a fire caused by a fire cracker entirely destroyed the Phoenix hotel, the court house, with all the records of the county, and the union block, the finest in the town, containing seven large stores." And the Rock Island Argus told of a fire "believed to have been from fire-crackers" that destroyed "three new two-story wooden houses."

HURT IN ACCIDENT
Mrs. Lillian Johns, 44, of 2664 Center St., was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital during the weekend following an auto accident. Mrs. Denise Johns, 18, of 2020a Grand Ave. was admitted for observation.

Truck license deadline delay

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, has extended the deadline for displaying 1974-75 license plates on second division vehicles licensed on a fiscal year basis to Thursday, Aug. 1.

"One reason for the extension," Howlett said, "is that heavy rains and flooding have delayed farm planting and have hampered construction crews and dump truck operators."

Plates may be purchased over-the-counter from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays at three motor vehicle facilities in Chicago and the Centennial building in Springfield.

Pre-printed renewal applications mailed from Springfield to 1.1 million second division vehicle owners should be used for all registration renewals.

"This is the first year that pre-prints are required for second division vehicles," said Howlett. "Pre-prints first became mandatory for 1974 passenger car registrations."

Second division vehicles include trucks, trailers, boat trailers, farm trucks and trailers and recreational vehicles.

Howlett said 1974-75 second division plates have black letters and numbers on an orange background.

Services held for sister of GC woman
Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at a Belleville funeral home for Mrs. Dolores R. Mauser, 44, of 2404 Caseyville Ave., Belleville, sister of Mrs. Eloise Scobie of Granite City.

Mrs. Mauser was pronounced dead upon arrival at Memorial Hospital, Belleville, of an apparent heart attack on Sunday. Other survivors include her husband, William E. Mauser, Sr.; two sons, two daughters, four brothers and two other sisters.

NEW BANK EMBLEM, Ernest A. Karandjef, president, and Don Van Horn, executive vice-president, inspect the new American National Bank emblem which will be used on future advertising and printed matter.

SIUE workshop

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is cooperating with other schools, agencies and individuals in sponsoring a workshop Tuesday at Belleville on the subject, "Managing Turbigrass on Athletic Fields." Beginning at 10 a.m. at Augustine's Restaurant, the workshop will continue until 3 p.m., including a luncheon.

According to Paul Owens, SIUE grounds superintendent and a member of the planning committee for the workshop, approximately 25 area high schools will be represented.

Wayne Siefert of Caseyville, area advisor in ornamental horticulture for the University of Illinois Extension Service and also a member of the workshop planning committee, said, "The response indicates to us there is great interest in improving school athletic fields."

"Up to this point, many school administrators have looked at their athletic fields with hopelessness because of a lack of money or too much scheduled use of the fields. We hope to be able to help them find economically feasible ways to provide better and safer fields."

New emblem, motto for American bank

"Banking—The American Way," according to Don Van Horn, new executive vice-president at American National Bank, "is our bank's new motto and our way of making a total commitment of the idea of patriotism."

"To carry out this theme, all of our future advertising and printed materials will have our newly created bank emblem, which is symbolic of our country's flag."

Van Horn said that customers and friends of the bank are invited to stop by for a free flag lapel pin.

"There are many things that make our country great," he

STOP! ROOFING PROBLEMS NOW!

PLASTITEX® ROOFING

REPAIRS
Colored Elastomeric Plastitex fills small cracks and nail holes; adheres tightly to the roof — bonds roofing granules; res down shingles and, at the same time, gives a beautiful new look.

INSULATES
The Plastitex coating forms a reflective Elastomeric shield over the entire roof. This helps keep interior rooms in summer cool in winter — lowers air conditioning and heating costs. Repairs possible.

PRESERVES
Moisture doesn't seep through as there's no deterioration of the roofing material. The coating resists the harmful effects of sunlight, salt air, sunlight and general weathering. Retained roof life means additional years of life with less maintenance.

SAVES
One coat of Colored Plastitex Elastomeric can save the owner many dollars. It can also eliminate the cost of repair and replacement of building materials, yet extend the useful life of all types of structures.

DECORATES
Attractive colorful Liquid Plastitex finish gives uniform appearance to old, peeling surfaces... and adds beauty and new life to dull, weathered roofs.

Ad campaign to aid Y program

More than 5,000 youngsters nationally will have the opportunity of going to YMCA Camp through the efforts of the "Y" and Datsun dealers, according to Harold Rudolph, executive director.

The national advertising campaign of Datsun provides that money will be contributed to the "Y" in the name of each person taking a test drive. Funds will be administered by a special YMCA campership fund and distributed to each region.

"We expect the dollars from Datsun to amount to something in excess of 25 per cent of all YMCA membership dollars nationally," Buddahn said. This

A previous Datsun advertising campaign in which monies were donated to the United States Forest Service to plant trees in national forests

In accepting the proposal, Dr. Robert W. Harlan, national YMCA executive director, said, "The 'Y' is particularly pleased to be involved with Datsun in this unique example of cooperation between a youth-serving organization and a great national corporation."

MR. AND MRS. RALPH KERN. Their wedding was solemnized in an evening ceremony at Christ Church Unity, Springfield, Mo. The bride is the former Phyllis J. Creed, a daughter of Mrs. B. B. Falk of Springfield.

Phyllis J. Creed and Ralph A. Kern are wed

Burning tapers in branched candelabra and large baskets of mums, interspersed with greenery, provided the setting at Christ Church Unity in Springfield, Mo., for the wedding of Phyllis J. Creed of Ozark, Mo., and Ralph A. Kern of Springfield, Mo., formerly of Madison.

The Rev. David Schumacher officiated at the 8 p.m. wedding on June 7.

The mother of the bride is Mrs. B. B. Falk of Springfield. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel Kern, reside in Madison.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown in turquoise fashioned with a sheer overskirt and a gathered flounce at the back forming a chapel train.

The Empire bodice was fitted with long sleeves and accented with a ruffle at the high neckline.

She wore a headpiece of yellow rosebuds to secure her shoulder length veil of turquoise illusion and she held a bouquet of yellow rosebuds, turquoise tipped carnations and baby breath.

Matron of honor Elaine Prince of Madison, a cousin of the groom, was attired in a long dress in pink and avocado patterned after the bridal gown. She carried an arrangement of yellow rosebuds and baby breath.

Upon Mrs. Petrovich's arrival at O'Hare International Airport, Chicago, employees of Ozark Airlines gave her personal attention, allowing her to board and leave the aircraft prior to the other passengers as a special courtesy to a foreign visitor, Mrs. Warren said.

Mrs. Petrovich will remain here six weeks before returning to her family in Zagreb.

BICYCLIST HURT

Tim Slavins, 17, of 2634 E. 25th St., suffered minor injuries when his bicycle and the auto of Eddie Milton, 2920 Faith Ave., collided at Faith and Nameki Road this week.

Mary Pastain, aunt of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. William Crankovich, Dawn Renee Ray and Michelle Karmagne and Elaine Prince, the groom's cousins, Miss Jeanette Kern, a sister of the groom and Mrs. Wenzel Kern, mother of the groom.

SANDRA DERNER, 901 Washington Ave., Madison, has received a suggestion award from the Procurement and Finance of the Automated Logistics Management Systems Agency (ALMSA) in St. Louis. ALMSA presently is designing a new standard-ADP system to be used throughout the worldwide Army Materiel Command which will allow all installation computers to converse with each other in a common language.

Organ music was provided during the ceremony by Paul Mitchell.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece summer suit in turquoise and the groom's mother selected a textured knit dress in pastel shades. Both wore yellow rosebud corsages centered with a single white mum.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside in Ozark, Mo.

Out-of-town guests included Eva Rice, Paula Prince and

Contest winners at park playgrounds

Winners of weekly tournaments and novelty contests at 10 playground centers in the Granite City Park District's summer recreational program were reported this week by leaders at the various centers.

Business Women hear program plans

The Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club held a program planning dinner meeting last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Valerie Stevens, program committee chairman, introduced Miss Annellen Smith, BPW president, and Mrs. Catherine Burton of Collinsville, president-elect of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Plans for the coming year were reviewed by committee chairmen, Mrs. Gladys Neuman, finance; Mrs. Rosemary Basden, foundation scholarship; Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, legislation and practical politics course coordinator; Mrs. Lois Wetton, membership; Mrs. Shirley Adams, public relations; and Mrs. Mary Batson, Young Careerist program.

Mrs. Annabelle Woodring of Collinsville, District 14 state program chairman, commented on the clubs enthusiasm and unity, and Mrs. Lucille Snyder, District 14 program planning chairman, reviewed the awards won by the Granite City group at the state convention.

The capabilities and achievements of women was the theme of remarks made by Mrs. Burton, who urged local BPW members to "work hard" for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment Bill.

New members welcomed by Miss Smith included Mesdames Barbara Hodges, Joann Page, Deborah Bittner, Shirley Arnold, Marie Benson, Celestia Puryear, Karen Kilponen and Shirley Pope.

A "Christmas in July" theme will predominate at a general membership "fun night" set for July 17 at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

Mrs. Wetton, dinner chairman, said a gift exchange, silent auction and pot luck dinner are planned, together with a "Major Bowles" talent contest.

Swim party for Parents Club

A "splash party" for members and their families of the Parents Without Partners, Eastside Chapter 91, will be held from 9 to 10:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 6, at Paddlers Swim Club, according to the president, Charlie Sabo.

The general meeting will convene at 8 p.m., July 8, at the VWF Post, 1224 Vandalia Ave., Collinsville, and the program will feature a new 22-minute color production of scientific and engineering achievements in communications.

Other family activities planned for the month of July include a trip to see a St. Louis Cardinal ball game on July 13 and a picnic and basket dinner on July 14 at Forrest Hill Lake, near Millstadt, Ill.

Social events for adult members are planned for July 27 at the home of Vera Isabell, 209 S. Crown St., Collinsville, at 8 p.m. to honor birthdays of members during June 22 to July 21.

Also an evening on the Admiral is planned July 12.

Meetings planned include a board session on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. with Irene Rette, 123 S. 26th St., Belleville; a social committee meeting on Wednesday with Vera Isabell at her home; adult activity committee meeting with Mrs. Evelyn Stephens; family activities meeting on July 23 with Kelly Hayden.

Treat lightning with respect

By ALBERT MEYER
Lightning, a common accompaniment to summer thunderstorms, should be respected by everyone, according to J. J. Paterson, a farm safety specialist at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale.

The number of lightning-caused deaths varies from year to year, but data gathered by the U.S. Department of Commerce's Environmental Science Services Administration puts the U. S. average death toll at about 150 persons per year. Another 200 are injured and property losses related to lightning are estimated at $100 million annually.

Most persons in rural areas have seen the destructive results of lightning bolts — shattered utility poles, dead cattle beside a wire fence or under a tall, sheltering tree, a large tree burst open, a building on fire. Lightning-caused deaths of persons or livestock make news all too often.

This was dramatically brought to public attention recently in the lightning electrocutions of four young high school women and two golfers in the St. Louis area. None remembered or did not know about suggested safety rules to follow when a thunderstorm approached them.

There are various forms of lightning, but streak lightning occurring in single or multiple lines from the clouds to the ground is seen most often. It results from a buildup of opposing electrical charges in the storm clouds and the ground. Generally positive charges build up in the ground and negative charges collect in the clouds in the vicinity of the storm area. The ground charges follow the storm and flow up buildings, trees, and other tall objects — even people — to try to make contact with the clouds' negative charges.

Tall objects in the open make good conductors for the negative-to-positive flow in a bolt of lightning. It may amount to as much as 100 million volts of electricity for just an instant.

Paterson says a general safety rule for anyone during a thunderstorm is to keep from serving as a lightning rod for such a bolt. If you're outdoors, seek a suitable shelter when a thunderstorm approaches. Stay away from fences, utility lines, or anything fabricated of steel, such as farm machinery and other metal equipment.

If you're out in a boat or fishing with a metal rod, head for shore and shelter before a summer thunderstorm breaks. Walking in an open field (especially on high ground) or playing golf on an open course invites a bolt of lightning.

Never seek shelter under an isolated tree in a field or near a tall tree in a wooded area during a thunderstorm. If enclosed buildings are not handy for shelter as the storm approaches, the next best protection is a cave, a ditch, a clump of bushes in open forest glades, or crouching in the lowest part of the field. Persons on the open who begin feeling tingling skin or hair standing on end should drop to the ground at once to avoid further buildup of an electrical charge that forewarns a likely lightning strike.

Automobiles provide excellent protection from lightning. A building protected by lightning rods is reasonably safe for shelter during a thunderstorm. Persons should stay indoors during the thunderstorm and stay away from open doors and windows with metal screens; from fireplaces or stoves; metal plumbing fixtures; connected electrical appliances. Don't use the telephone during a storm. Don't try to retrieve the laundry from an outside metal clothesline when lightning is a possibility. Persons struck by lightning receive a severe electric shock and also may be burned. A lightning victim sometimes may be revived by immediately applying artificial respiration. He can be handled safely at once because persons struck by lightning do not carry an electrical charge.

O'Connor heads industrial group

Edward J. O'Connor, personnel manager of A.O. Smith Corp., has been elected president of the East Side Industrial Relations Association.

Other new officers are Howard W. Curtis, labor relations manager, Monsanto Co. at Sauget, vice-president; and Mrs. Dorothy Kelley, senior labor relations specialist of Olin Corp., East Alton, secretary-treasurer.

The new officers were announced at a meeting of the association at Sunset Hills Country Club.

The association is an organization of industrial relations and personnel professionals representing more than 30 industrial firms in the Illinois region of the metropolitan area.

WILSON PARK SWIMMING POOL is a popular place on a hot afternoon. The pool is open seven days a week during the summer from 1 p.m. until 8 p.m. Adults, at least 21 years of age, may swim free every day from 11:45 a.m. until 12:45 p.m. Group swimming instruction is offered to all children 8 to 13 years of age. Dates and times of classes are available at the pool office at 876-7466. Registration for all classes must be made in person at the pool office between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. (Press-Record Photo)

Scott urges full state aid funding

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has urged the Illinois Legislature to pass a "veto-proof" bill to fully fund state aid to local school districts and "put an end to the ever-increasing nightmare of local taxes on the already overburdened homeowner."

In announcing his support of the full-funding legislation now pending in the General Assembly, Scott said:

"If the people who talk about tax relief are sincere, they can demonstrate that sincerity by doing something very direct and very dramatic for every local property taxpayer: the length and width of Illinois: Take the pressure off local taxes for our educational system!"

"The phrase 'taxpayer accountability' that we've heard so often lately means nothing if nothing happens to end this nightmare of annual increases in local property taxes. Tax relief, like charity, begins at home and people just can't handle this tax overload any longer."

He strongly urged the Legislature to approve full funding of the schools in this session and I hope Governor Walker will sign the measure into law. Hopefully the votes in the legislature will be large enough to be veto-proof."

The attorney general said that both the United States Supreme Court and the new Illinois Constitution of 1970 have affirmed the State's responsibility for the funding of schools.

"That responsibility," Scott said, "is premised on the fact that all of the children of the state are entitled to an equal opportunity to a quality education. It's ridiculous to think that this can be accomplished by continuing to dump the load on the already overburdened homeowner."

Scott announced his support of the school measure to the Illinois Committee for Full Funding, a coalition of 13 groups representing every facet of public education in the state, according to Dorothy Benner, immediate past president of the Illinois Parent Teacher Association and spokesperson for the Full Funding Committee.

"To renege on the state's commitment to provide a more equitable distribution of state aid only one year after giving that promise to school districts could throw school-district financing into chaos for years to come," Scott said.

Lincoln Trail coupons available

The Illinois Division of Tourism of the Department of Business and Economic Development announced last week that a limited number of Lincoln Heritage Trail Discount Coupons are available to the public.

The coupons offer various discount rates (up to 100 percent) for lodging, meals and admissions along the Lincoln Heritage Trail, which traces the footsteps of Abe Lincoln through Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

Among the places honoring the savings coupons are Lincoln's Boyhood Home in Kenucky, the New Salem Carriage Museum near Petersburg, the Lincoln Wax Museum in Springfield, the Lincoln Long Nine Museum in Athens, and restaurants, motels and hotels along the trail. Limited to packages of 25 per family, the coupons expire Dec. 31, 1974, and may be obtained at the Illinois Adventure Center, 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago 60601; or the Illinois Division of Tourism, 222 S. College St., Springfield 62706. More information about the Lincoln Heritage Trail may be obtained at the same locations.

WEST POINT CADETS were the speakers at a meeting of the West Point Cadets Parents Club held at the Granite City Army Installation. Among those attending the annual orientation session for newly

West Point Cadet parents meet at Army base here

The West Point Cadet Parents Club held its June meeting at the Officer's Club, Granite City Army Installation. The meeting was the annual orientation meeting for the newly appointed candidates from the Greater St. Louis Area to the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

After dinner, a business meeting was held. Announcement was made of plans for a group of members to attend the Army-Notre Dame game in South Bend, Ind., on Oct. 19.

Walter Flachs is chairman of the planning committee. A recognition plaque was presented to Robert Neske of St. Louis, the retiring president by the new president, Raymond Able of St. Louis. Speakers were Cadets of the USMA who had just completed their plebe year at the academy. Cadet Alan Phillips of Salem, Ill., was chairman of the group. He introduced the Cadets who were to speak on different divisions of the academy and explained the different uniforms that were worn by each of the Cadets.

New Cadet Barracks was explained by Cadet Mel Labradior, University City, Mo. Academics by Cadet Joe Sullivan, Belleville; Athletics by Cadet Mark Daniels, Salem, Ill.; Clubs and Activities by Cadet Dave Morlock, St. Louis; Military by Cadet John Wienzette, St. Louis; and Honor Code by Cadet Larry Acher, Clayton, Mo.

Firsties speaking were Neil

Ahle, St. Louis; Daniel Monken, Granite City; Mark Hertling, St. Louis; David Sykora, Affton, Mo.; Mark Heymeyer, St. Louis; and Jim Abcower, Kirkwood, Mo. Lt. Tim Tanner and Lt. Rich Neske, both of St. Louis, and 1974 graduates of USMA also spoke to the group. There were 125 cadets, candidates and parents at the meeting. Firsties are cadets in their final year.

Returns from meet

Dean Bryant, manager of the Granite City branch of Orkin Exterminating Co., Inc., a division of the diversified service company, Rollins, Inc., has returned from a Western conference of Orkin management at Kansas City, Mo.

Earl F. Geiger, Rollins executive vice-president, told the conference that retail food stores alone lose $4.4 billion a year to insects and rodents, contributing to the high cost of food. One purpose of the conference was to apprise Orkin branch managers with the latest steps being taken by the company to aid business in reducing the loss.

Food stores' loss from pest damage and pest contamination is 3.7 times greater than net profits in that segment of business and 2.7 times greater than loss to pilferage in food stores, Geiger said.

SIU Medical School grows

For the first time in its brief existence, the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine has students in all three of its classes.

The first freshman class, after completing its one year of basic science studies on the Carbondale campus, has transferred to Springfield for the outset of two years of clinical studies.

The clinical phases of the school's three-year curriculum is primarily in the two Springfield hospitals, St. Johns and Memorial Medical Center.

In Springfield, the class has joined 25 advanced standing students who began their clinical training last October. The advanced standing class, made up mostly of students who graduated from two-year medical colleges in the Dakotas and Nevada, will become the school's first graduating class next June.

A new freshman class of 58 students was officially welcomed to the school in a ceremony June 14 at SIU-Carbondale. Twenty-six of the new medical students are from Southern Illinois and 23 come from the central part of the state. The rest are from the northern tier of counties.

Twenty-six members of the class are graduates of the University of Illinois or SIU-C. There are nine women in the class.

Demos to elect more delegates

John P. Touby, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Illinois, has announced the election of 77 delegates from congressional districts to the 1974 Democratic National Conference. The delegates were elected at meetings June 18 by the delegate electors who were chosen June 4 in each county outside Cook County and each Ward and Township inside Cook County.

An additional 19 delegates-at-large and 21 alternate delegates-at-large will be chosen at the Democratic State Convention which will be held this afternoon in the St. Nicholas Hotel, Springfield.

Delegates chosen in this 23rd congressional district are Buddy W. Davis, 520 East Ferguson, Wood River; Patrick D. Sullivan, 19 Bel Dore Drive, Fairview Heights; James W. White, 1130 St. Louis Ave., East St. Louis; and Sam W. Wolf, 21 Bermuda Lane, Granite City.

AWARD RECIPIENT, Kenneth Crain, right, a 1974 graduate of Venice High School, receives the first Dr. John E. Lee Memorial Award from Jack Tolliver, president of the board of education. The $100 award was presented the first time this year by alumni of the Venice Schools in the name of the late mayor. Crain plans to enroll in Belleville Area College this fall.

Teachers accuse Republicans

The Illinois Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, has accused Illinois Senate Republicans of insulting the Labor Movement and weakening "democratic constitutional processes" by their action in refusing to confirm Lawrence Keller of Evergreen Park as a member of the State Board of Education.

Keller is education director for the United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, and was nominated by Governor Walker to serve on the new State Board of Education, which will take control of the Illinois public school system next January when the term of present State Superintendent Michael Bakalis expires.

On a straight partisan vote, Keller failed to obtain approval of the Senate, which is controlled by Republicans by a majority of 30 to 29. All 29 Democrats voted for Keller's confirmation. Of the 30 Republican senators, 24 voted against Keller, two voted present, and four did not vote even though they were present.

Oscar Weil, executive director of the IFT, which represents some 45,000 Illinois teachers, released a letter which he sent to the Republican members of the Illinois Senate in which he said their action was "a telling blow" for those senators and "powerful interests who work tirelessly to weaken support for public schools."

Weil asked the Republican senators who refused to support Keller to reconsider their actions and support a move to confirm Keller, thereby purging the record of the Senate of "a travesty of Illinois constitutional processes."

Earns degree

Mary Dunn Fishburne, Granite City, was awarded a bachelor's degree in art with honors at the 129th commencement ceremonies of the University of Notre Dame this spring.

More than 2,200 students, including almost 120 women in the four undergraduate colleges of Arts and Letters, Business Administration, Engineering and Science, received degrees at the ceremonies attended by 12,600 persons in the Athletic and Convocation Center on the campus.

Women students were admitted to Notre Dame undergraduate colleges for the first time in 1972 and this year's valedictory address was delivered by Marianne O'Connor of Nashville, Tenn., an engineering student with the top grade point average in the University.

Energy independence vital—Cong. Price

U. S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-23rd District) told a Washington energy conference that the nation's energy independence plans must be set out in a "living document" and called for Congressional reorganization to deal with the energy challenge.

Rep. Price, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, said it is time "to move to the 'action stage' and leave the 'study stage' behind us."

"Our major emphasis in Project Independence must be placed on proven technologies in which we have high confidence," he said, asserting that "Such a realistic approach should result in significant increased domestic energy production over the next decade or so with a high degree of surety."

"Specifically," he continued, "we must work hardest toward greater utilization of existing and planned nuclear and coal-fired electric power plants. We must also significantly intensify our efforts to find and better utilize our domestic fossil fuels."

The Congressman stated that a Project Independence plan must include clear organizational arrangements and a full statement of the scope, objectives, and schedule of the program.

Rep. Price expressed hope that an Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) will be created this summer, and called for reorganization of Congressional functions in the energy area after the new agency begins to function.

He mentioned two bills which would empower the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy with both oversight and legislative functions in regard to all energy research and development activities, paralleling the scope of ERDA's activities.

Development of energy sources such as geothermal, solar, gasification and liquefaction of coal, development of oil shale and other methods would be under the jurisdiction of the new Joint Committee, but nuclear regulation would not be.

Rep. Price made his remarks at the First Annual Management Briefing and Conference on Energy R & D.

Explorer objective is career interest

Meeting the needs of youth has been a long-time objective of the Boy Scouts of America, but now there is a special concern for the needs of young adults as well.

Tailored to the interests of young adults of high school age, the Exploring program offers opportunities to take part in special career interests such as law enforcement, health care, auto mechanics, photography and science.

Although it's part of the Boy Scouts of America, Exploring is kept separate from the programs for younger boys, according to Dr. Jack Miller, explorer chairman for the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) District of the local council.

"We feel it's important that young adults have an opportunity to explore career interests. The best way is for groups to meet with experts in a particular field," Dr. Miller explained.

"One of the unique features of Exploring is that it is run by elected youth officers, and the post program determined by the young leaders emphasizes leadership responsibility, social skills, personal fitness, and outdoor activities," Dr. Miller concluded.

Dr. Miller noted that any business, industry or trade associations working with the Exploring program may contact the local Scout service center, 1338a Niedringhaus Ave., phone 678-0666, for further information.

State promotes 'back-yard tours'

By MARY LOU MANNING

In an effort to encourage Illinoisans to see Illinois this vacation time, the Division of Tourism has put together a series of "Backyard Tours."

Presently, a total of 13 tours, four from downtown and nine from the Chicago area, are available. Another 16 should be ready by July 1, according to spokesman from the division.

"These tours are designed for the traveler who wants to see a little of his own area," explained Mike Aditi, tourism regional representative. "They are relatively short, trips that can be made in one day or over the weekend."

Walker releases second June state aid payments

Gov. Dan Walker has released a second set of June payments of state aid to the 1,054 local school districts, to help districts that otherwise might have experienced cash shortages as they close out their current fiscal year.

The release brings the total of June payments to school districts to $135.7 million. The regular payment was released June 15.

Gov. Walker said: "The monthly state aid payments to local schools are usually sent the following month. But because some school districts had been planning on receiving their June payment in June this year instead of July, they might have been in a cash flow pinch if we followed normal procedure."

"We don't want the schools to find themselves in a cash bind this month as they close out their fiscal years. So I am releasing both payments this month."

The regular schedule of school aid payments was thrown awry in fiscal 1973, when payments for two months went to the districts during the same month. State policy has been to make payments to school districts in one month following the month covered.

But the dual payment during fiscal 1973 led some school districts to expect another month acceleration in fiscal 1974. And those districts anticipated that the fiscal 1974 payment — for June 1974 — would be in their hands before June 30.

The monthly state aid payments to local schools are usually sent the following month. But because some school districts had been planning on receiving their June payment in June this year instead of July, they might have been in a cash flow pinch if we followed normal procedure.

Gov. Walker said: "The monthly state aid payments to local schools are usually sent the following month. But because some school districts had been planning on receiving their June payment in June this year instead of July, they might have been in a cash flow pinch if we followed normal procedure."

"We don't want the schools to find themselves in a cash bind this month as they close out their fiscal years. So I am releasing both payments this month."

Gov. Dan Walker has released a second set of June payments of state aid to the 1,054 local school districts, to help districts that otherwise might have experienced cash shortages as they close out their current fiscal year.

The release brings the total of June payments to school districts to $135.7 million. The regular payment was released June 15.

He has been in the Air Force nearly 20 years and has been an adjunct assistant professor of aerospace studies of the AFOTC unit at SIUE since June, 1971.

Venice park budget up

A 1974-75 budget projecting expenditures of $90,800, an increase of $11,107 over last year's $79,783 appropriation, has been posted for public inspection by the Venice Park district pending a July 12 public hearing.

Park Board officials said that a special Park Board meeting will be called following the public hearing to approve the new budget bill. The budget has been posted at the Lee Park Recreation Hall, 305 Broadway, where the public hearing also will be held.

The new budget projects total expenditures out of the general corporate fund of $47,900 up from $38,813 from last year.

Expenditures in the general fund include $13,215 in the administrative department, up from $8,610; $2,550 for the legal department, same as last year; $3,080 for the finance department, same as last year; $240 for elections, for which there was no appropriation last year; $1,340 for park buildings, up from $1,190; $23,686 for park grounds, up from $19,483, and $3,500 for salaries, for park police, same as last year.

Most of the increase in the corporate fund was in the appropriation for wages of park laborers in the park grounds accounts.

The Venice Park Board budgeted this year at $15,000, an increase of $4,000 over last year's $11,000.

The Recreation fund is budgeted at $33,900, up from $32,820, and the Illinois Retirement Fund budget totals $7,000, up from $6,300. Costs of liability insurance are projected at $1,750, up from last year's $1,000.

The bill states that the district began its 1974-75 fiscal year May 1 with balances of: general fund, $8,983; recreation fund, $4,755; retirement fund, $583; audit fund, $486, and the liability insurance fund, $718.

The district estimates income during the year at $38,300 for general fund, $27,500 for the recreation fund, $6,500 for the retirement fund, $250 for the audit fund and $1,400 for the insurance fund.

ATTEND REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Collins had as their house guests last week her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickerson and daughters, Sharon, Angela and Teresa, of Waukegan, Wis.

The families motored to Piedmont, Mo., to attend the Dickerson reunion at Sam A. Baker State Park on Saturday. All of the senior Mr. Dickerson's children and most of his grandchildren were present at the reunion.

JULIUS SOBZAKS MARK SILVER ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sobzak of Highway 162 celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday evening at the Long Lake Firemen's recreation hall on Pontoon road.

Dinner was served to 200 guests, including out-of-town guests Mrs. Marsha Horton and son, Jerry, of Houston, Tex.; Mrs. Glen Dale of Benedit, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. John Ajajanian of Arcadia, Calif.; and Mrs. Lee Hopkins of Montebello, Calif. The hall was attractively decorated in silver and blue. A large tiered cake topped with a blue and silver "waterfall" centered the table.

Boys from the Pontoon Church of Christ who attended camp at Bond Christian service camp at Mulberry Grove, Ill., were Casey Werthe, Joe Werthe, Frank Murphy, Steve Geisse, Scott South, John Werthe, Keith Smith, Tim Striech, Ricky Galbraith and Danny McCallister.

MARKS BIRTHDAY AT COLLECTORS' SHOW

Jeff Senter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Senter, attended a national Avon collectors' show over the weekend in Kansas City, Mo. He also was honored on his birthday at the home of the president, Bob Hastings, who presented him with an art car from his own collection.

Senter received other gifts and a large birthday cake. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Hackney of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander from Collinsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pickens and children, Brian and Kellie, spent the weekend in St. James, Mo.

Ralph Brawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brawley, left yesterday for Great Lakes Naval Training Center to start boot training.

RECEPTION SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. George (Lucille) Klug will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday at the Pontoon Church of Christ, with an open house reception from 2 till 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank James and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McCarvey of Minden, La., returned to their home Sunday after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Lake Drive.

HONORS HUSBAND

Mrs. Pal Dickerson entertained her Sunday school class last week at a party honoring her husband, William, on his birthday. Refreshments, including homemade ice cream, were served.

Prior to the social hour, the class members visited prospects.

Ralph Brawley has returned from Oage Beach, Mo., where he spent five days with the Checker Board Squares dance group.

Venice 4-H club hosts seniors

The Yellow Roses 4-H Club of Venice has participated in "dairy month" promotions during June by entertaining members of the Silver Belles Senior Citizens Club with demonstrations relating to dairy food items.

Brenda Harper, the club's teen leader, introduced Abigail Heard and Venita Davenport who presented the demonstrations.

Following the meeting, eleven 4-H members went to the Venice Public Library to prepare research articles on milk. They were accompanied by adult leaders, Mrs. Eva Davenport and Mrs. Jewell Young.

A "blue ribbon" awards ceremony for the 4-H club is planned at 1 p.m. Friday at Lee Wright Homes, Venice, the leaders announced.

SPARE TIRE STOLEN

A spare tire was taken from a 1973 truck, according to a report by Janice James, 2633 Delmar Ave., during the weekend.

Booklet lists state programs for aging

By MARY LOU MANNING
The newly created Department on Aging administers more than 100 programs and projects throughout the state for its 1.3 million senior citizens.

That's a lot of programs, and to make it easier to find information about each one, the department has compiled "Services and Programs Profile for Illinois Senior Citizens."

"The Department and its Technical Advisory Committee, chaired by Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, have compiled a booklet listing all state government administered programs which affect the quality of life for the elderly," explained Irving Dilliard, director of the department.

Another booklet, Part II of the Profile, will detail, county by county, all services for seniors emphasizing local government and the voluntary sectors' efforts. Part III will contain a description of the elderly's needs in the fields of income, maintenance, housing, health, transportation, nutrition, social services and recreation.

"It is our intent that the completed efforts will enable the Department, the Committee and members of the General Assembly to plan more effectively the use of our state's resources for services for the state's elderly," stated Hartigan in the booklet's introduction.

The Committee is comprised of the directors of the 14 state agencies which have major programmatic responsibility for the elderly.

A "Senior Profile Questionnaire" prefaces the publication. A copy of this questionnaire was sent to each state agency to determine the programs and grants available from each department. Information gathered from this was used to prepare the 82-page booklet.

State programs range from the familiar—Medicaid (Public Aid), State Employees' Retirement System (agency of the same name) and Adult Basic Education Program (Superintendent of Public Instruction)—to the not so familiar—"Golden Age" rate (State Fair Agency) and Outpatient Programs for the Elderly (Mental Health).

In addition, a listing of all members of the Committee and the Council on Aging, a 31-member advisory board, along with their respective addresses and telephone numbers is included in the booklet.

"Copies of the booklet have been sent out to area agencies on aging and other related to this field," Dilliard said. He hopes to have copies available at local libraries.

MARY SKASKO

JOSEPH HOOK

Two join Tri-City Grocery

The appointment of Mary K. Skasko and Joseph M. Hook to positions at Tri-City Grocery Co. were announced here this week by S. E. Pershall Jr., president of the company.

Miss Skasko will assist Al Barnes, advertising manager. She was born in Dayton, Ohio, and resides now in Belleville. She is a graduate of Belleville Township High School East and obtained a degree in merchandising from Bauder Fashion College in Miami, Fla. She had been an artist for International Shoe Co., St. Louis, before accepting the position of assistant advertising manager.

Hook will assist Richard Roderick, head grocery buyer and Ronald Aldridge, assistant grocery buyer. He was born in East St. Louis, moved to Belleville in 1955 and graduated from Cathedral High School in 1963. He also received a degree in business administration from SIU at Edwardsville in 1967.

Hook began working for Tri-City in 1962 at the Loisel Village store in East St. Louis. He now is living in Collinsville with his wife, Mary, and their daughter, Amy.

6 arrested at park, charged

Six young people were charged with illegal possession of beer in a city park and one of them was charged with illegal possession of marijuana after Granite City police arrested them in Wilson Park at 8:20 p.m. Monday.

Charged with having beer in the park, a violation of a park board ordinance, were Andrew Lassio, 21, of 1526 Clark Ave., George Mead, 20, of 4501 Highway 182, Marilyn Cook, 18, of 2200 rear Iowa St., Madison, Judy Cummings, 21, of 612 English Place, Mitchell, and Victor Couch, 21, of Edwardsville, and Joe Jones, 19, of Rural Route Two, Box 774.

Lassio also was charged with possession of cannabis after officers alleged they found a plastic bag of marijuana in his pocket. All but Lassio were released after posting $25 bond each.

This announcement is neither an offer to sell nor a solicitation of an offer to buy any of these securities. The offer is made only by the Offering Statement.
